Hitler-Benito Combination Is Europe's Peril

Nazi Germany and Fascist Italy Face Democracies as Sworn Partners in Peace or Battle as They Choose

By H. L. PERCY

British United Press. Exclusive Cable to the Edmonton Bulletin

LONDON, Feb. 1.—Nazi Germany and Fascist Italy now face the democracies as sworn partners in peace or war, with the way left open for any move they may choose to make for a greater share of the world's riches.

Adolf Hitler's speech before the Reichstag pledging Nazism to stand beside the Fascist armies in any "ideological war against Italy prepared the ground for either peaceful negotiations to meet the demands of the dictators or for a new crisis arising from threats to use force, but it left the choice of methods primarily in the hands of the German Fuehrer and his partner, Italian Premier Benito Mussolini.

On one important point—the Ukraine—Hitler remained silent, but in no way did he put an obstacle in the path of plans that ardent Nazis have long been building for further penetration eastward against Muscovite most publicized for, Soviet Russia.

LEAVES QUESTION OPEN

The Fuehrer merely left the question open, to be stirred into a furious international issue at any time the German press chooses.

Thus Hitler's speech struck a variety of chords, including those of peaceful notes that are sweet music to Europe's millions.

But it definitely opened the way for Mussolini to use the Fascist pledge of support (ambiguous though that pledge may be), it served notice that the "deepest autarchy" for economic equality will be carried on by the Reich against any opposition and it left in the hands of the dictators the question of whether there shall yet be a spring war scare.

PEACE RIVER ROAD PROJECT IS LAUNCHED

Three Camps With Engineers Start Vermilion-Hay River Highway

Three camps with as many engineers under H. P. Johnson, district engineer for the Peace River area, have commenced work on the new $52,000 highway which will run from Meikle River near Grimshaw to either the mouth of the Hay River at Great Slave Lake or Fort Providence on the Mackenzie river, according to an announcement made Wednesday by Hon. W. A. Fallow, minister of public works.

The province, under a two-way agreement with the Dominion, will construct to the northern boundary of Alberta from Fort Vermilion and the Dominion will complete the work to the northern extremity. At present the Dominion is undecided as to whether it will take its end of the highway to Providence or the mouth of the Hay River.

Mr. Fallow made his announcement following a conference with A. M. Narraway, chief aerial engineer for the Dominion government and John Drew, engineer in charge of the Dominion government participation in the project.

COMPLETED IN SPRING

Mr. Fallow stated that unless weather conditions made work difficult or impossible the winter road project would be completed by March 31 and that "we expect we will be able to get tractor trains hauling from the mines before the ice goes out. This means that we may be able to get pitchblende concentrate to Port Hope, Ont., about April 1. It is expected that when the summer comes, we will

Full Publicity Is Sought In F.D.R. Policy

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—President Roosevelt's repeated willingness for the United States to sell war materials to democracies in Europe touched off Republican demands today for full publicity on the administration's foreign policy.

Senator Austin (Rep., Vermont) demanded that all committee hearings dealing with neutrality, foreign policy and national defence be opened to the public.

By throwing open these hearings, Austin said, "we do not need to burn our bridges behind us."

The idea of selling planes to foreign powers which oppose the threat of aggression by dictatorships met a varied reception.

ROOSEVELT PLEDGES TO AID BRITAIN

NEW YORK, Feb. 1—United States senators had from President Roosevelt today an assertion that America would help European democracies arm against totalitarian aggression. Mr. Roosevelt was reported to have outlined that policy yesterday in Washington before a senate military committee, the members of which were sworn to secrecy.

As details of the unusual conference trickled out, the president's objective in expediting sales of American-made aircraft to France and Great Britain was disclosed to be preservation of world peace through support of democracies.

The New York Herald Tribune, in a despatch from its Washington correspondent, said the president went even further and told the senate committee the United States would aid Great Britain and France in the event of a European war with every means short of sending troops.

Both the Herald Tribune and Times correspondents said the president had placed the United States' frontier "in the Rhine".

The Herald Tribune further report the president "intimated that there were already a definite understanding and positive commitments between the United States and the European democracies, through responsible heads of the European democracies know my position," the president was quoted by the Herald-Tribune as saying.

However, any armaments supplied to European countries would have to be paid for, the president was reported to have said.

When one member of the com-

BERLIN, Feb. 1.—The Berliner Nachtausgabe splashed the headline "America's Frontier on the Rhine" across its front page tonight and described President Roosevelt's meeting with the senate military affairs committee yesterday as "without example since the days of the Great War."

Nachtausgabe quoted U.S. newspapers as saying Mr. Roosevelt had told committee members the United States must back up democracies in any war against the totalitarian states with arms deliveries.

"Unbelievable agitation (Hetzaktion) of Roosevelt after the Fuehrer's peace address" was a subhead of the dispatch.

Another said, "Washington stirs up the people to make business."

"As a result of these conversations it is clear that the United States finally has broken with its neutrality policy," the paper said. "Washington yesterday officially became the centre of war-inciting hatred against totalitarian states."

In a lengthy comment following the dispatch, Nachtausgabe said:

"One can only thank the President of the United States for laying bare his political aims, immediately after the Fuehrer's peace talk, to all Europeans and inhabitants of the United States: not only war incitation but also war preparation for the benefit of Jewish bankers and

Il Duce refrained from saying even a few words to his followers as he distributed medals to the survivors of Spanish and Ethiopian war dead in services at the great national monument beside the Piazza Venezia and later watched the troops march past in the broad Via Nazionale.

The events were in observance of the 16th anniversary of the Fascist militia's organization.

H. W. Rattenbury Sought In Vancouver and West Vancouver For Theft

Police still are seeking to locate H. W. Rattenbury, former city purchasing agent charged with theft of $764, believed to be in Vancouver or West Vancouver, it was learned Wednesday morning from Chief Constable A. G. Shute.

A warrant charging theft of city funds was issued Saturday and also mailed to the Vancouver city police immediately after a telegram had been sent.

Chief Constable Shute on Tuesday wired Vancouver police asking for a report and received a reply stating that they had waived jurisdiction and turned the warrant over to West Vancouver police.

There was no new word on Wednesday morning.

MILNER RESIGNS AS PRESIDENT CONSERVATIVES

H. R. Milner, K.C., of Edmonton, announced today that he had resigned the presidency of the Alberta Conservative Association.

Mr. Milner's letter of resignation has been forwarded to the executive of the association and will be considered at the annual convention which will be held in Calgary February 25.

Confirmation of Mr. Milner's resignation was received from D. M. Duggan, M.L.A., Edmonton, Conservative House leader in the Alberta legislature.

Asked to comment on Mr. Milner's resignation, Mr. Duggan declined at present.

From other sources it was learned that Mr. Milner has been contemplating this action for some time.

Friends point out that his time is fully occupied with his business affairs and legal practice, and that he is absent from the province a good deal of the time. As a result, he felt that someone should hold the post who is in more constant contact with affairs of the association.

Mr. Milner himself is a Calgary visitor at present.

Mental Agility Of Sir Kingsley Wood Quells London Riot

LONDON, Feb. 1—Sir Kingsley Wood's mental agility saved him from a possible beating by Fascists last night at a Limehouse town hall political meeting that ended in a riot.

Invading the district on behalf of a local Conservative candidate, the secretary for air declared in a speech "we are proud of Chamberlain."

Fascists in the rear of the hall hissed, booed and drowned out the speech.

"Our balloon barrage system—", the air minister began.

Toy balloons filled the hall. Fireworks exploded. Some groups began dancing the Lambeth Walk and others sang Tipperary. Finally, when a Conservative on the platform shouted, "you noisy rabble," fists began to fly. Women yanked hair and a group of hefty men surged toward the platform.

Sir Kingsley began singing "God Save the King," and the fighting stopped immediately.

As the last strains died away police arrived and the air minister ducked out the back door.

The demonstration apparently was directed primarily at William Courtenay, Conservative candidate for the house of commons from Limehouse, rather than at Prime Minister Chamberlain.

The followers of the British Fascist leader, Sir Oswald Mosley, were angered when Mr. Courtenay attacked them sharply recently.

Policy Debate Brings 2,000 In Demonstration

LONDON, Feb. 1.—Demonstrators estimated by police to number 2,000 milled about the houses of parliament last night shouting "arms for Spain" as the House of Commons debated Britain's policy in regard to the civil war.

Police ringed the building and guarded all entrances to prevent the demonstrators from invading the house. No serious disorders developed. Demonstrators later tied up traffic in Piccadilly Circus for an hour. A number were arrested.

ROOSEVELT NOT REQUIRED TO RETURN VISIT

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Protocol experts of the state department have decided President Roosevelt will not be required to return the visit next June of King George and Queen Elizabeth.

Among reasons given for their opinion was that Their Majesties' visit is not being made directly to the United States, but is a by-visit to the ruler one in Canada.

Of course, the experts added, there is nothing to prevent Mr. Roosevelt from going to Europe on a private visit after he leaves office.

LONDON, Feb. 1.—Geoffrey Mander, Liberal, today announced he will ask Prime Minister Chamberlain in the house of commons next Tuesday "if he will consider the advisability of paying a visit to the President of the United States as a continuation of his recent visits to national leaders."

DEMOCRACIES IN EUROPE TO GET U.S. ARMS

Will Be Aided Against Totalitarian Aggression, President Says

mittee asked the president about the neutrality law which empowers him to declare an embargo when he deems a state of war exists, he replied "that bridge" would have to be crossed when it was reached.

There has been some talk of amending the Neutrality Act, especially since the president in his message to congress early in the session suggested it might at present work to the unfair disadvantage of some nations.

SPOKE PLAINLY

With 18 members of the Senate committee gathered in a circle around him, the president was reported to have spoken plainly on the foreign and domestic policies underlying the preferred aid to a French mission in obtaining planes from private manufacturers in the United States.

The senators said Mr. Roosevelt pointed out that sales of planes to foreign governments would provide employment and prepare this country for the mass production of aircraft called for in the defence program. It was in connection with the sale of planes to France the president appeared before the committee.

He was said to have declared the government considered it the wisest policy to aid European democracies so they could talk threats of war by being prepared for any eventuality.

There were strong indications, however, the president's explanation of the government's interest in the French mission had not stilled minority criticism of the move within the committee.

PROTEST SECRECY

This criticism took the form of protests against the secrecy which has clouded committee investigations of the matter as well as the White House committee. One senator said he was considering walking out of further closed sessions, if the record of previous ones was not made public.

"To be sworn to secrecy at a time when there is much to be said is more distressing than you can know," Senator Gerald P. Nye (Rep., North Dakota) told reporters after the White House meeting.

Jubilation Seen In French Official Circles

PARIS, Feb. 1.—First editions of afternoon newspapers in Paris used big headlines today to proclaim that President Roosevelt would back the "frontiers of the United States are in France."

Although members of the government refused to comment on reports of President's meeting with the Senate military committee yesterday on the ground his statements were confidential, there was undoubted jubilation in official circles.

The stock exchange reacted favorably, with stocks rising several points in the early hours of trading as soon as newspapers had printed accounts of the meeting.

France was shown in U.S. commerce department records to have purchased less than $1,000,000 of planes and plane parts in the United States in 1938. Total exports of military and non-military aircraft—the department did not separate the figures—were $68,000,000.

The principal customers were Netherlands, Indies, Japan, China, Yugoslavia, Russia, United Kingdom, Canada, Turkey, Brazil, Mexico, Australia, Hong Kong and Sweden, in that order.

Satisfaction Expressed By British Press

LONDON, Feb. 1.—The British press expressed satisfaction today with accounts of President Roosevelt's meeting with the senate military affairs committee. Emphasis was given to reports he had said he intended to aid European democracies in every possible way short of war in any conflict with dictatorships.

Such headlines as "Roosevelt To Aid Democracies," and "Our Frontier Is In France — Roosevelt" stretched across the front pages of London evening papers.

In official quarters it was evident the reports of the meeting were welcomed as further aid in strengthening British and French policy toward the dictators.

ENEMIES ARE JEWS

"Now we know that our enemies are Jews and the leading men of the Democratic states who are participating in Jewish business.

"Because we do not bend to the economic dictates of the Jews but are determined to defend for ourselves with our productive power, liberty and equality in the world economic life, Roosevelt on behalf of Jewry wants to arm against us and convert France and England into a battlefield.

"Therewith is the alliance between Moscow and the New York stock exchange perfected.

WORLD MUST DECIDE

"The world must now decide whether it is in favor of peace or war, whether it is ready, together with Germany and Italy, to champion the equality of all peoples and therefore to secure peace or whether it wishes in the interests of Jewdom to join in an attack upon Germany and Italy that has been openly announced by Roosevelt."

Early today the disturbance was general over the western plains states and by tomorrow, the weather bureau said, the storm would be felt as far east as the Atlantic seaboard.

Strong northwest wind whipped falling snow into hard packed drifts throughout western Nebraska, eastern Wyoming and the Dakotas.

War Peril

there is a general tendency to view Hitler's speech as mainly conciliatory; as indicating that the danger of an immediate crisis was alleviated rather than intensified by Germany's celebration of the sixth anniversary of Nazi rise to power

LOOK TO FUTURE

But it was admitted generally that only future developments could definitely tell whether Hitler put down the groundwork for peaceful adjustments in line with British Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain's battered policy of "appeasement" or whether he had prepared the way for both ends of the Rome-Berlin axis, possibly in co-operation with Japan, to raise simultaneous demands that would test to the limit the re-arming democratic bloc.

In Rome, for instance, it is foreseen that Mussolini may speak Saturday, at which time he may disclose what use he intends to make of Hitler's promise of military support, what concessions he expects from France and Great Britain in his struggle for imperial domination of the Mediterranean.

The Nazi Fuehrer's speech emphasized his desire for a long period of peace and pointed out that Germany's demand for return of her pre-war colonies was not an issue on which the Reich would go to war.

RADIO LICENSE COST DISCUSSED AT GRIT CAUCUS

OTTAWA, Feb. 1. — Cost of the annual license for radio receivers, now $2.50, was discussed at length today in the caucus of Liberal members of parliament when considerable criticism was directed at the current annual assessment.

The caucus, well attended, greeted the two new members of the cabinet, Hon. Norman McLarty, postmaster general, and Hon. J. A. MacKinnon, minister without portfolio, who both spoke briefly. Hon. J. C. Elliott, former postmaster general, and Prime Minister Mackenzie King also addressed the caucus.

As far as could be learned, the question of defence estimates and policy, expected to be a matter of controversy, was not discussed. The caucus lasted only an hour and a half.

CAHAN SCORES TREATY WITH UNITED STATES

Former Secretary Of State Vigorously Condemns Agreement

OTTAWA, Feb. 1—Canada's new trade agreement with United States "will have the inevitable result of increasing unemployment throughout Canada" in the opinion of Hon. C. H. Cahan (Con., Montreal St. Lawrence St. George).

In the house of commons yesterday the veteran former secretary of state vigorously condemned the agreement and ridiculed what he called "The Prime Minister's illusive infatuation that reduction of our modest tariffs against United States will save civilization from international conflict."

VERGE OF RUIN

Speaking in the debate on the address in reply to the speech from the throne, Mr. Cahan said the high tariff policies of the United States against Canada, enhanced by the Hawley-Smoot tariff of 1930, "brought Canada to the verge of financial ruin, and the only relief by the Ottawa agreements of 1932."

Ten speakers took part in 12 debate yesterday and there is a considerable list still to come. It now is believed the vote may be reached Thursday.

BLOW AT EMPIRE TRADE

The agreement with United States and its accompanying concessions of Canadian preferences in the British market struck a blow at the entire trade agreements, and the preferential system, Mr. Cahan declared.

"In fact, the Ottawa and Ottawa agreements with the United Kingdom and other British dominions were signed Aug. 20, 1932, the state department of the United States and its representatives at foreign capitals have striven in every possible means known to destroy the effect of those inter-imperial agreements."

"The prime minister's policy of appeasement is already providing insufficient to satiate the cupidity of politicians at Washington who are demanding more than Hitler and Mussolini in their claims for territorial expansion," Mr. Cahan said.

R. W. Gladstone (Lib., Wellington South) put further arguments to that already advanced by previous speakers for more business-like sessions of parliament.

WORK DURING RECESSES

He suggested some members of the house be set to work during parliamentary recesses on means of preventing the duplication of such branches as radio, the rural mail delivery and public buildings.

W. K. Esling (Con., Kootenay West) recommended the setting up of appointing whartingers at small government-owned wharves on lakes where they do not exist, and mainly restricted to small producers whose only means of staying off relief was by marketing their products.

SAVED FROM RUIN

The trade agreement with the United States negotiated in 1935 saved Canada from ruin, in the words of the late King George the Kings). The new agreement had yet to prove its merits but it was "Built on a sound foundation" and the previous provisions had "Saved" Canada from ruin through stagnation of trade."

The only trade agreement Canada had that was any good was the agreement with the United Kingdom signed in Ottawa in 1932, in the mind of Dave Spencer (Con., Toronto-Parkdale), "Members may laugh at that but if they are not stupid they should know it," he declared.

SLOWLY PASSING

Members of the Social Credit party would come to Ottawa in increasing numbers, prophesied J. S. Taylor (Ind., Nanaimo) today.

Of the C.C.F. which he supported when he was elected in 1935, Mr. Taylor said it was the finest and most promising movement in Canada at its inception but it is slowly passing out of existence, almost unnoticed.

Norman Lockhart (Con., Lincoln) predicted the Bren machine gun would have a double barrelled recoil across Canada. He was referring to the Davis commission report on the Bren contract and said much more would be heard of it.

NOT SATISFACTORY

Although there was sentiment in the country for a union or national government, previous experience of Canada and Great Britain had improved very satisfactory, James Glen (Lib., Marquette) told the house.

Gilbert Weir (Lib., Macdonald) had general commendation of the government administration except for the National Housing Act. He believed the approved lending institutions were not co-operating in the rural areas, and he urged some improvement be brought about.

FIGUERAS, Spain, Feb 1.—The parliament of government Spain—the Cortes—assembled today for a secret session to display its determination for continued resistance to the insurgents.

The parliament was convoked "somewhere in Catalonia" just behind the battlefront in northeastern Spain where the government succeeded in establishing its lines after last week's rout from Barcelona, the former capital.

The agenda and the exact time and place of the meeting were kept secret lest Insurgent air raiders break up the proceedings and endanger the lives of government leaders.

DEPUTIES FLY NORTH

Deputies from central and southeastern Spain, however, were known to have flown north for the session as evidence of solidarity between the separated governments and of confidence in Catalonia's security.

Since the outbreak of the civil war July 18, 1936, the work of the Cortes has been carried on by a small committee with the lawmaking power in the hands of Premier Juan Negrin's cabinet.

FRESH TROOPS

The army newspaper printed at Gerona said fresh troops had arrived in Catalonia from the central front.

It also was stated that Gen. Juan Serrabia Hernander, former commander-in-chief of the Catalonian armies, had been replaced by General Jurado, professional army officer and former inspector general of artillery in the central zone.

NO MORE GAS FOR RESERVE BOARD RULES

CALGARY, Feb. 1.—W. F. Knode, chairman of the Alberta Petroleum and Natural Gas Conservation Board, said last night the Canadian Western Natural Gas, Light, Heat and Power Company, Limited, of Calgary, has been notified that, effective midnight, no further gas supply gas shall be used for the company's reserve in the Bow Island field.

The halt of re-pressuring waste Turner Valley gas in the Bow Island field, approximately 200 miles southeast of Turner Valley, is effective under a Conservation board order issued Tuesday, which states:

"Any gas produced in any gas well which is not used for the purpose of the generation of heat, light or power for domestic or industrial purposes shall be placed with the minimum amount of loss into the earth at such place or places, horizon or horizons, and in such manner as may be from time to time approved by the board."

R. A. Wright, negro carpenter, has been charged with her murder. Wright and Taylor died in the hospital, where he was taken after he was found lying on a roadway, his wrists and throat cut.

Almost penniless, employed domestic's body was found near an unused road in adjoining Esquimalt municipality early Saturday, hands and throat slashed as though by razor, and head battered.

Ernest Hanham, known as Mrs. Track's husband, in Calgary and Victoria, testified at the inquest that the woman and her real husband separated in Edmonton some years ago.

Mussolini

cautioned no great surprise.

Diplomatic quarters in the past few days have come to the belief Premier Mussolini will mark time until the end of the Spanish war that will be giving any official indications of what plans he might have —plans which agitation by the Fascist press have indicated revolve about a demand upon France to grant colonial concessions in Africa.

Machine-guns and artillery set up a deafening din as Il Duce strode up the broad marble steps to open the ritual.

DECORATES WIDOWS

Machine-gun fire sounded again each time he stepped forward to pin decorations on the black-garbed widows and mothers, many of them with trembling hands as they gave the Fascist salute.

The decorations ceremony completed, Il Duce sped away by auto to review his Blackshirt battalions without addressing the group of women.

In Gibraltar, a local statute bans maternity to all women not of the British nationality.

BRUCE VOICES OPPOSITION TO COLONY RETURN

Australia Must Hold New Guinea At All Costs, He Says

SYDNEY, Feb. 1. — Stanley Bruce, Australian high commissioner in London, expressed opposition today to the return of Germany's former colony of New Guinea on the ground it would expose Australia to danger.

He spoke here in spite of a ban imposed yesterday by Prime Minister Joseph Lyons on ministerial comment on Chancellor Hitler's Reichstag speech.

"Australia must hold New Guinea at all costs," Mr. Bruce declared. "Herr Hitler has recently stressed again the demand Germany is making for colonies, but if an enemy had air bases in New Guinea he could within a few hours direct a mass attack on the great cities along the eastern coast of Australia which are at present immune from the danger of such attacks.

NEED FOR PREPARATION

"Herr Hitler's speech has done little or nothing to restore stability in world affairs, which is an essential antecedent condition for peace, and the need for preparation to ensure Australia's security still remains the most urgent task for us."

The former German port of the island of New Guinea, some 93,000 square miles, lies about 1,700 miles north of Sydney and about 1,100 miles south of Brisbane. It is held by Australia under League of Nations mandate.

Highway

be able to continue the road building project until we have an all-year road."

The proposed route, said Mr. Fallow, is in the general direction of the old wagon trail from the Meikle River Crossing, to five miles south of the Upper Hay River; then a little eastward until it crosses the Hay River and will then follow the west bank of the Hay river in a northwesterly direction to the boundary of the North West Territories.

THREE COURSES

From this point the road may take any one of three possible courses, which will be decided by the Dominion government, as the entire cost of this section is being borne by the Dominion.

One of these routes would be directly to the Hay River in a north-easterly direction; the second would be almost directly to Providence on the Mackenzie river and the third would be from the boundary slightly eastward of direct north, to an intermediate point where one branch would lead into Hay River and another into Providence.

After flying over the entire area of Alberta a complete investigation, Mr. Narraway and Mr. Drew report that the route from Fort Vermilion through the Caribou mountains is impracticable. They found that engineering difficulties would make the cost prohibitive.

DEFINITE ROUTE

Mr. Fallow stated that the highway crossed the Hay river and ran on the west bank instead of the east, as thought at first, because of the better route on the west where only two small creeks have to be crossed instead of many gullies and much muskeg on the east side. At the point where the highway crosses the Hay river the stream is 100 feet wide.

Estimated cost of the project is $82,000, of which the province would pay $17,000 and the Dominion $35,000.

GERMAN TRADE IS MAJOR AIM OF NAZI CHIEF

Political Demands May Be Placed Temporarily In Second Place

BERLIN, Feb. 1—In becoming increasingly apparent today that Chancellor Adolf Hitler's determination to increase German trade might place Nazi political demands temporarily in second place.

While the press kept up the colonial arguments which Hitler strongly advanced in his reichstag speech Monday night, the economics ministry concentrated on the more immediate question of export.

TALK MUTUAL TRADE

It was announced German and British industrial representatives would meet in Duesseldorf Feb. 28 to consider mutual trade and economic problems. (The British secretary for overseas trade, Robert Hudson, indicated last night a British-German agreement to end conflict in world trade might be reached upon a lessening of international tension.)

A German representative departed for Moscow, and usually informed Germans hied at the possibility of trade or political negotiations. Economics Minister Funk began conversations with the Czecho-Slovak trade minister.

A visit of a Brazilian air force commission and the arrival of the new Mexican minister, Gen. Juan Azcarate, late this month were seen as indications of improving relations with the Latin American countries, trade with which Hitler warned the United States not to interfere.

There was speculation in banking and trade circles, without any official interpretation of his new duties, that Dr. Hjalmar Schacht might become Germany's trade agent. Upon his removal last month as economics minister, the financial leader was delegated to "special tasks."

Hitler made the need of export a question of life for the nation in his Reichstag address. "Germany must export in order to buy foodstuffs," he said.

PROMINENT DISPLAY

The press gave prominent display to reports that Prime Minister Chamberlain's speech in which he offered to negotiate upon evidence of good along with friendly words in favor of peace.

The Boerszneitung declared in an editorial that "our demands are to just and so lucrative that they do not admit a 'deal.'"

Lokalanzeiger stated that "it would naturally be unfortunate if Chamberlain should fail to see the chance offered by Der. Fuehrer's realistic expose of controversial political issues."

Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung said the speech made a favorable impression, especially its rebuke to builders of war scares.

Diplomats Prepare Plan For Conference On Palestine Problem

TOBACCO FIRM WELL AWARE OF ALBERTA PROBE

TORONTO, Feb. 1—The Imperial Tobacco Company and Imperial Tobacco Sales Company were well aware as far back as last April of the investigation underway in Alberta relative to the distribution of tobacco products, J. C. McRuer contended Tuesday before Mr. Justice W. D. Hogg of the Ontario supreme court.

The argument was in reply to that of D. L. McCarthy, counsel for the companies, who is seeking to have issued an order for the asking of the report of F. A. McGregor, commissioner under the Combines Investigation Act, on the Alberta situation.

The report found the companies named were parties to an unlawful combine in Alberta and elsewhere, in Canada. Mr. McCarthy argued the companies had not been given proper notice of the inquiry.

Mr. McRuer contended more than a prima facie case must be made out for the granting of the motion. If those aggrieved felt the commissioner exceeded his jurisdiction they had a remedy in law.

CALARY, Feb. 1.—The Alberta Provincial Rifle Association has passed a resolution stating Canada was losing its title of "a nation of marksmen" through the policy of the federal department of national defence in refusing to permit organization of civilian rifle clubs.

Copies of the resolution, approved at the association's annual meeting, will be sent to other provincial bodies and to the Dominion Rifle Association at Ottawa, Alberta officials said.

The resolution was moved by Lieutenant S. Johnson, Calgary Blaley unit, and seconded by Sergeant T. A. Jensen of Innisfail, member of the 1958 Canadian Bisley team.

ARMY AND NAVY TO OPEN STORE IN COAST CITY

Army and Navy departmental stores will open a new store in Vancouver about April 15, it is announced here by S. J. Cohen, Regina, head of the chain. The structure will have five stories and a basement, and while no estimate of the cost was given, Mr. Cohen confirmed the report that the building recently purchased for store premises was assessed at $100,000. J. L. Bolocan, merchandise manager for the Edmonton branch, will be manager.

The company has been operating a small store in the coast city since the close of the war, the branch being mainly in the mail order business.

"In 1924 we opened up in Regina, chiefly because we wanted a distributing point for our growing mail order business, and then went into retail business there also," Mr. Cohen said. "Then we opened up in Moose Jaw and started in Edmonton in 1930."

Nate Alexander, department manager of the Edmonton store, will accompany Mr. Bolocan to the Vancouver store and several Edmonton employees also will be transferred to the coast, Mr. Cohen said.

Foreign Secretary Lord Halifax received Emir Feisal, foreign minister of Saudi Arabia, while Sir Alexander Cadogan, permanent under-secretary at the foreign office, conferred with the Turkish ambassador, Tewfik Rustu Aras.

Declaring progress had been made during January in restoring order in the Holy Land, Mr. MacDonald said:

"The close control established by military authorities has made it increasingly difficult for large bands of terrorists to operate. The result of activity, as recently, transforms numerous isolated acts of terrorism and sabotage."

He recommended the British government discuss the problems resulting from conflicting Arab and Jewish claims to Palestine as a homeland with each side separately at first. If a basis for discussion is reached, both factions will enter a round table discussion.

The shortest route from Chicago to Shanghai, the speaker pointed out, is almost a straight line by way of Canada and Alaska and would be 4,300 miles shorter than the present route across the United States.

"No compromise has been effected," said William Rains, representing the one-time star. "There have been discussions leading toward a settlement." Lawyers for Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Bernstein confirmed this.

He referred to orders for 500 pursuit planes, saying such purchases were necessary to supplement French warplane production. He said France has "Priority for its orders in the United States and thanked Mr. Roosevelt for his benevolent perspicacity."

"I cannot allow criticism of our purchases abroad which are possible only because the great American democracy is giving its entire help —because in serving France it is serving the cause of peace," the air minister declared.

La Chambre acknowledged the number of planes produced by France in January just "exceeds 90 machines." Germany is said to be producing 1,000 monthly and Britain 400.

LEGION SEEKS AID FOR IDLE EX-SERVICEMEN

Government Urged To Accept Responsibility By Col. Foster

OTTAWA, Feb. 1.—Organized veterans throughout Canada are urging that the government should accept responsibility for jobless ex-servicemen who served in a theatre of actual war, Col. W. W. Foster, Dominion president of the Canadian Legion, told Prime Minister Mackenzie King and the ex-soldier members of the cabinet Tuesday.

Recognition of this responsibility does not involve a new field of expenditure, the Legion head said. The government had already accepted this particular class as being its responsibility inasmuch as each indigent veterans in due course came within the scope of the War Veterans Allowance Act.

SHOULD DO SOMETHING

"In the meantime, we feel something should be done," said Colonel Foster. "With regard to the number involved, every effort has been made to check recent estimates, and as the department of labor indicated a substantial improvement in employment, it would appear reasonably certain that the number is now under 10,000 fit unemployed ex-servicemen in the category on whose behalf the legislation is proposed."

Present with Premier King were Hon. C. G. Power, minister of pensions; Hon. Ian Mackenzie, defence minister; Hon. Norman Rogers, minister of labor; accompanying Col. Foster were the members of the sub-executive council of the Legion, including Brig. General Alex Ross, of Regina, Sask., and T. A. Barnard, Nanaimo, B.C.

QUEBEC POWER SAVES ONTARIO FROM BLACKOUT

TORONTO, Feb. 1.—Repurchase of Quebec power saved a large area of the Ontario Hydro - Electric Power Commission system from a complete blackout Monday. Dr. T. H. Hogg, commission chairman, said Tuesday.

Adverse winds, heavy snow and ice combined along the Niagara river to cut by 430,000 horsepower the generating capacity of commission plants and private company plants supplying the commission under contract with power.

"We got by," Dr. Hogg said, "by cutting off uninterruptible power and taking close to 600,000 horsepower through the Leaside substation."

Because of the Quebec reserves, blocked out from Ontario province, the commission was able to meet the "critical situation" without orders of primary power being aware there was anything unusual in the service, Dr. Hogg said.

Nazi Press Inaugurates Campaign For Colonies As Chamberlain Studied

BY LOUIS LOCHNER
Associated Press Foreign Staff

BERLIN, Feb. 1—The Nazi press has inaugurated a campaign for German colonies as Chancellor Hitler studied Prime Minister Chamberlain's demand for deeds, not words, in favor of peace.

Taking its cue from the Fuehrer's Reichstag speech of Monday in which he demanded colonies, the newspaper Berliner-Zeitung said our demands are so just and so long overdue that they do not admit a "deaf" ear.

News of the prime minister's speech was displayed prominently in all Wednesday morning newspapers, but comment in the early night editions was brief and in general terms. One official spokesman said the text was engaging the close attention of the foreign office.

The Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung contented itself with saying Mr. Chamberlain's speech made a favorable impression, especially that part rebuking war-scare mongers.

MAYOR TELFORD ALARMED OVER CAR LOADINGS

VANCOUVER, Feb. 1. — Mayor Lyle Telford last night told members of a service club that wheat receipts at the head of the lakes are more than four times what they are in Vancouver.

"I am frankly alarmed," the mayor continued. "I know our car loadings on grain are down, and that's a bad sign. We've got to start now to do something about it.

"I have been drawing up figures to show the comparative cost of shipping wheat from Alberta to Liverpool by way of the lakeheads, and by way of Vancouver.

"I find that from Empress, Alta., via West St. John to Liverpool it costs 34.35 cents per bushel. The same wheat can be shipped from Empress to Vancouver, put on a boat and taken over to Liverpool for 4.51 cents a bushel less."

BRACKEN VISIONS BRAINS AS NEED IN ECONOMIC WAR

REGINA, Feb. 1—If four people could sit down around a table and head off a military war, there should be enough brains in the world to agree on a way to avoid an economic war, it was asserted last night by Premier John Bracken of Manitoba as he addressed the annual meeting of the Regina Board of Trade.

Speaking before an audience that included government officials of three provinces, officers of many farm organizations and business men, Premier Bracken issued a plea for unity of effort and singleness of voice in grappling with a marketing problem that has stalled, and may continue to slash, the annual income of 300,000 western farmers by $150,000,000 a year.

Registration Of Canadian People Urged By Conant

ST. THOMAS, Ont., Feb. 1.—National registration of the Canadian people should be undertaken to marshal the manpower of the nation in the event of war and to provide a "much needed" record of unemployment, Hon. G. D. Conant, Attorney-General of Ontario, suggested last night.

The existing unsettled international situation requires that Canada undertake some plan comparable with Great Britain's national service enrolment, Mr. Conant told a service club banquet.

CHAMBERLAIN'S PEACE POLICY UNDER REVIEW

Too Early To Expect Reaction From Hitler To Premier's Speech

LONDON, Feb. 1—The Chamberlain government today reviewed the Prime Minister's ambitious program to obtain limitation of Europe's staggering rearmament and ensure peace.

It was too early, observers agreed, to expect any reaction from Chancellor Hitler to the frater thrown out by Mr. Chamberlain yesterday in his statement to the House of commons in which he asked for deeds and not words from Berlin in support of peace.

Mr. Chamberlain told the house the government's policy of peace through negotiation "is succeeding."

VOTE OF CONFIDENCE

After a day-long debate the house gave him what amounted to a vote of confidence on his dealings with dictator states and on non-intervention in Spain by voting 358 to 133 to uphold the government when Labor forces a division on a motion to adjourn the house.

Mr. Chamberlain said he was willing to discuss Germany's "grievances," which are principally its demand for colonies, if Hitler would enter into an arrangement for limitation of armaments."

Hitle widely known Mr. Chamberlain is eager to cap his career by obtaining such limitation. As a businessman he is shocked by the huge sums Britain is spending on arms in an effort to catch up with Germany in preparedness, and by the spending underway in other countries.

OPTIMISM SPREADS

Optimism over the European situation which followed Hitler's "conciliatory" speech to the Reichstag on Monday spread. It was reflected yesterday in surging stock markets here.

Despite Mr. Chamberlain's desire for limitation of armaments, any British movement in that direction will be slow and cautious. Generally it was agreed there is little possibility of four-power discussions until after the Spanish civil war ends and Germany and Italy have backed with action their statements they have no territorial or other ambitions in Spain.

OTTAWA, Feb. 1.—The amount of coal subventions paid in 1938 to coal producers in various parts of the country and the duties on coal exports to other countries are asked by E. G. Hansell (S.C.-Macleod) in notice and proceedings of the house of commons.

Famed Anarchists Waging Bitter Fight For Mountain Gorges

LA TOUR DE CAROL, France (On the Spanish border) Feb. 1—Spanish government Durruti, a famed anarchist unit, fought desperately along the gorges of the upper Segre river on Devil's Bridge Tuesday to protect Puigcerda, road and rail gateway to France.

Knee deep in snow in the Pyrenees, the column comprising about 10,000 men tried to hold the fountpents south of Seo De Urgel, 34 mountain miles west of Puigcerda along the French border.

The anarchists had little or no artillery, but were well equipped with automatic rifles and small arms. Their attackers were Navarrese mountain troops who dragged field batteries with them.

The Navarrese fought their way up the Segre river gorge to the towns of Coll De Nargo, Gilfola and Organa, and then stormed and captured Figols Peak, 10 miles south of Seo De Urgel.

By sundown they reached the foot of Devil's Bridge, a ridge of rock forming a natural archway by the side of the river gorge. There the Durruti column held.

Insurgents' Advance Reaches Malgrat

BARCELONA, Feb. 1—Insurgent General Juan Yagüe's troops slackening their advance, reached the port of Malgrat last night after an advance up the coast that has brought them to a point about 25 miles south of Gerona, Malgrat, 30 miles northeast of Barcelona, is situated just south of the Barcelona-Gerona provincial borders.

Government troops were reported fighting fiercely to retain their grip of Berga and Vich, as General Franco's armies, tired by 40 successive days of conflict, slowed up their drive to bring all of Catalonia under their control.

Near-Riot For Bread

BARCELONA, Feb. 1. — With clamor of near-riot proportions, hungry people besieged social service centres last night for gifts of food, but the insurgent conquerors of Spain's largest city.

Soldiers and civil guards were ordered to keep order. Officials announced the situation would be under control within a week when the first food trains arrived.

DEVELOPMENT MINING ROADS NOW PROPOSED

REGINA, Feb. 1.—Development of mining roads was the main interest Saskatchewan could make at the present time, Attorney-General T. C. Davis, declared in the provincial legislature Tuesday as he spoke in the throne speech debate.

It was an investment which would be repaid many times over, said the member for Prince Albert. He told the house he would like to see such roads constructed from Meadow Lake to Buffalo Narrows, from Nipawin to Flin Flon and from Big River to Grand Rapids on the Beaver river.

The attorney-general, who adjourned the debate, spoke for only a short time, answering Co-operative Commonwealth Federation proposals to socialize the mining industry. He said such action was altogether too costly for any government to attempt and he declared that no government in Canada had, within its own sphere, gone as far along the road to public ownership as the government of Saskatchewan.

Old Vancouver Hotel May Be Scrapped Soon

VANCOUVER, Feb. 1.—C. W. McBain, Canadian Pacific Railway land agent, said in Civic Court of Revision Tuesday the old C. P. R. Hotel Vancouver, replaced by a new hostelry to be operated jointly by the C. P. R. and Canadian National Railways, may be torn down before next year.

"It's pretty obvious we can't leave the structure standing very long at the present rate of taxation," he said.

McBain was in Court of Revision to ask a $600,000 cut in the $2,375,000 assessment on the old building which can not be used as a hotel after the new building is opened next May 24. The assessment cut was granted.

INTERNATIONAL CONTROLS MANY CANADIAN FIRMS

MONTREAL, Feb. 1.—Numerous hydro-electric and pulp and paper companies in Eastern Canada and Newfoundland are controlled by International Paper and Power company, which announced Tuesday it will sell its more than $500,000,000 worth of utilities.

Through its two subsidiaries—International Paper company and International Hydro-Electric system—the parent company is linked with power and paper industries in Ontario, Quebec, the Maritime Provinces and the British colony.

International Paper company's subsidiaries include Canadian International Paper, Limited, which in turn operates Canadian International Paper company and International Fibre Board, Limited, which maintains plants at Midland, Ont., and Gatineau. East Gatineau Power Company of Ottawa is controlled by International Hydro-Electric system.

New Brunswick International Paper company, organized in 1928 to construct and operate a pepermill at Dalhousie, is a subsidiary of Canadian International Paper company, estimated to own, or hold under lease, timber tracts of more than 12,247,000 acres.

The firm also controls International Power and Paper Company of Newfoundland, Limited, operators of a newsprint plant, a barking plant and a hydro-electric development near Corner Brook.

DELEGATES ASK ASSISTANCE ON PROPOSED ROAD

Seeking interviews with Hon. W. A. Fallow, minister of public works, Chamber of Commerce officials and others interested, B. Grimmard and L. C. Dann of Fairview are city visitors in connection with a publicity campaign on behalf of the Peace River to Stewart, B.C. They plan to go as far as New York and Chicago. The visitors are publicity agents for the Northern Alberta and British Columbia Advertising Association with headquarters at Fairview. They are vending memberships in the organization.

From here they will go to Saskatoon and Winnipeg, and continue east.

The proposed highway will be 518 miles in all. It will run 150 miles west from Peace River to the B.C. boundary, then 60 miles to Stewart. It will link with the proposed Alaska highway.

It is said this highway will not conflict with the Monkman Pass highway.

DICK EXPLAINS HOBBY BENEFITS

Four reasons for the cultivation of hobbies were suggested to Cosmopolitan Club members Tuesday by their guest speaker, W. J. Dick, general manager of the Cadomin Coal Company.

Hobbies provided a means for self-expression that was invaluable, he said. They were useful as a method of securing mental relaxation from worry. Cultivation of a hobby, he added, would create interests that would last all through life, and lastly, hobbies aided health.

The One-Party Myth

Considerably the greater part of Chancellor Hitler's speech on Monday was devoted to extolling the peculiar virtues inherent in a totalitarian form of government. This was to be expected. It is the privilege of the head of any government to blow his own trumpet, and the Fuehrer seemed aware that a good deal of trumpeting was called for; though his audience was made up of hand-picked members of a Reichstag which had already willed away its powers to rule and its right to doubt.

That portion of the speech was intended for home consumption, and is only casually interesting to outsiders as indicating the degree to which horn-blowing is necessary to keep the Nazis in line or the non-Nazi section of the populace quiet.

That there is a considerable non-Nazi section in Germany the Fuehrer made plain by the attention he paid to those who differ with his policies and methods. These, he said, were debris and "refuse," of whom nothing good could be expected and to whom nothing was owing but discipline. And he was not in that passage referring to the Jews, but to Aryan unbelievers. These may gather from his remarks what is in store for them.

The conclusion is pretty plain that one-man rule is not as widely popular in Germany as has been pretended. The plaudits of the party delegates who compose the Reichstag mean little. The references to the absent and unheard "opposition" mean a good deal. To outside observers who can think these allusions will not commend one-party government as a system under which it is desirable, or would be even tolerable, to live.

Mussolini Can Call the Tune

So far as other nations are concerned, the point of chief—and very real—importance in the Fuehrer's address was his affirmation of the solidarity of the Berlin-Rome axis. This is important not so much because he pledged loyalty to his ally, as because he gave Mussolini a blank cheque. In any war of "ideologies," he said, Germany would back Italy, regardless of motives. This is very much like telling Il Duce to pick a quarrel with the democracies, or with Soviet Russia or any other non-Fascist type of government, for any purpose he may please, and rely on German support.

That reverses the order of precedence. The Berlin-Rome axis becomes for practical purposes a Rome-Berlin axis. Mussolini is to call the tune and Hitler will dance to it. The Mediterranean becomes the focal point of aggression, with Il Duce naming the objectives. If he refuses to evacuate his new Spanish stronghold according to promise, France and Britain must count on dealing with both dictators, not with him alone. If he demands a price for keeping his word, the power of the Reich will back his demands.

This of course has been supposable hitherto. But it is now translated into an official pronouncement. Il Duce, if he chooses to demand Tunisia or Djibouti, or a share in the management of the Suez Canal, will do so with the armed might of Germany as well as Italy behind him.

London papers found the Fuehrer's speech conciliatory. It was non-belligerent in tone, relatively at least. But there is nothing conciliatory in this advance-pledge of Hitler support for whatever Mussolini may want.

Markets Or Death

Herr Hitler says Germany needs colonies because it must sell its industrial products or "die". Which is direct admission that "economic nationalism" doesn't work, even when operated by tyrannous power and unrestrained severity of administration. Theorists who say a country could bar its doors and live unto itself should be interested in this. Hitler doesn't believe it; and he has tried the theory under exceptionally favoring circumstances. Now he says Germany must find markets abroad or it cannot live.

Colonies would not supply the markets Germany needs. These would be sources from which it could draw raw materials; but these it can get in the open market at production costs. They would not consume any proportion of Germany's industrial output large enough to be important. The colonies it held before the war did not do that and were in no prospect of doing it. The export markets argument is bogus as a claim for colonies.

But the argument is sound if it were advanced as a proposal for the scaling-down of tariffs against German goods and the restoration of that country to a normal place in international trade. This Germany is entitled to. And this it can secure if and when Nazi policies cease to excite foreign prejudice against it. The greatest barrier German trade encounters abroad is the reaction of decent-minded people to the persecution of Jews and other non-Nazi elements in Germany. The second greatest barrier is the quite natural refusal of people in other countries to build up the strength of an aggressor state by buying its goods.

The Fuehrer is in position to remove these obstacles at any time, and give to Germany and the world the mutual benefits of a freer and larger exchange of products. But he talks to deaf ears when he asks foreigners to buy German goods while he continues to pursue a policy of threat, or to turn over multitudes of natives to be treated as non-Nazi people are being treated in Germany.

Editorial Notes

The Attorney General of British Columbia says the business of supplying gasoline in that province has fallen into the hands of one company, which sets the price for all. If the Government interferes, he says, a price war is threatened. That is one kind of war the motorist might not worry about.

A court in England decided that when the Government presents a man with a gas mask it becomes his private property and he may throw it in the ash can if he wants to. Understood, of course, that won't debar him from kicking about the high taxes, or blaming the Government if he ever needs a gas mask and hasn't one handy.

More bad news for western farmers. Officials of the department of agriculture at Ottawa say they are feeding too much cheap grain to their pigs and if they don't cut down the rations they will get only lard hog prices for them. The bacon trade requires the stream-lined type. So another way of disposing of the oat and barley surplus is ruled out.

Foreign countries doubled their purchases of munitions in the United States last year. Contrary to what might be supposed, the bulk did not go to countries at war. Britain bought more than Japan, which country with China bought something more than a third of the total, and none went to Spain. The big market was in countries not at war but fearful they soon may be.

Current Comment

All Should Enjoy It

Diplomats from other countries in Ottawa enjoy immunity from paying a tax on their dogs. But as the Capital city has a tax on canines, the Federal Government pays the levy on the dogs owned by the envoys.

Happy are the diplomats. They can take their beloved pets with them wherever they go, and never have to bother with such an unnecessary and unreasonable levy as a tax on their dogs.

But, of course, they are merely enjoying a privilege that should be accorded other residents of Canada, especially in cities. Dogs in places like Ottawa, Windsor, Toronto, and other large cities are not sheep-killers. They do no damage which is repaired by revenues collected from dog taxes.—Windsor Star.

Surely But Slowly

In numerical (air) strength we are still inferior to the strongest foreign air force within striking distance of our shores—and parity with that force must be the aim of our rearmament—but we do at least appear to be getting somewhere. There must, of course, be just a suspicion that we are not getting along quite so quickly as we might be, or perhaps ought to be. Next year is still a little way ahead, and we have had one recent object-lesson of how quickly events can move to crisis in the modern world. But that we are where we are and not further ahead is probably not the fault of the present Air Minister, and it can at least be said that his blue prints for the future bear fairly exacting reading.—Glasgow Herald.

Doing Better

News from Ottawa the other day indicated that Canadians spent in November $39,400,000 more than they did in November a year ago.

Payments by cheque, or bank debits, in which form it is estimated 97 per cent of business is transacted, amounted to $2,965,079,444 in November compared with $2,925,615,844 in November of the previous year.

Bank debits by provinces, with figures for November, 1937, in brackets, were: Maritime provinces, $60,740,639 ($58,904,206); Quebec, $983,814,807 ($922,945,099); Ontario, $2,256,412,-242 ($2,341,768,337); Prairie Provinces, $492,567,-286 ($434,863,449); British Columbia, $171,544,469 ($167,134,153).

If the foregoing means anything at all, it means that the people of Canada as a whole were much better off last November—and, presumably, in December as well—than they were in November, 1937. This means progress in the right direction.—Victoria Times.

Genius and Hard Work

Somebody once defined genius as "the art of taking pains."

The great Rachmaninoff said the same thing in a different way when he told Ottawa reporters that he still practises at his piano two hours a day. When he was younger he probably practised six or more hours a day.

Most of us too lazy to practise anything for two hours a day. Most of us, probably as a direct consequence, don't do our jobs as well as Rachmaninoff does his job. We lack the art of taking pains.

Yet any job can be done well by anybody without taking pains. Somebody once asked Michael Angelo why he took so much time with trifles. Replied the master: "Trifles make perfection, and perfection is no trifle."

So it is also with life. The prizes go to the man who, taking pains, does his job a little better than anybody else. It is a matter of the dust with the palm.—Ottawa Journal.

The Myth of Fascist Efficiency

There are some Canadians—and good Canadians, too—who are hovering on the edge of Fascist conversion because of the widespread notion that the Fascist nations have achieved a peak of efficiency to which Democracies cannot aspire.

They point vaguely to what Hitler and Mussolini have done for their countries and say that if Dehocracy possessed half the speed and efficacy of Fascism the political philosophy under which we live would be more to their liking.

Actually, these people are looking into a Utopia that is no more than a propagandist's mirage. It simply does not exist at all.

Let us look, not at dreams, but at the facts. And these facts are that the majority of the German people are enjoying a standard of living that is no better than that of the worst Canadian slums. If we wanted to approximate actual German living conditions, we would have to cut all Canadian salaries about 50 per cent and put 70 per cent of our people on the government payroll on a wage no self-respecting Canadian would endure.

According to official German figures, there are nearly six million unskilled laborers in Germany working under the system by the government at 24 marks a week. The mark is supposed to be worth, roughly, 40 cents—but not to the German workers. In terms of things they can buy, it is worth about 25 cents. Thus there are about six million people in Germany living on six dollars a week.

The average wage in manufacturing alone in Canada is $23.32 a week. Throughout the whole country, our wage level is at least twice as high as Hitler's.

Then on top of this meagre wage scale is the price of foodstuffs which is roughly twice as high as we pay for similar commodities in Canada. But the German sometimes cannot get these foodstuffs at any prices. Meat is difficult to procure. Coffee and butter are rationed. An adult is allowed slightly less than a third of a pound of butter a week. The lower middle and poorer classes use no butter at all but a substitute made of whale oil and puffed out with air.

This is only part of the actual picture of what some of our malcontents are wont to call "German efficiency." It is the result of Fascism. It is the condition that inevitably follows Fascism.

It is the strangest and weirdest and most deceptive myth on earth. Democracies are far from perfect. But Democracies are doing more for their people today than any other form of government in existence.

Democracy, under British ideals and traditions, is the only path for Canada to follow.—Vancouver Sun.

No matter how much we may differ on internal politics, it is common sense and patriotism to present a unified front in foreign affairs.—Alfred M. Langdon.

The Passing Show

By J. S. COWPER

Samuel Pepys, the seventeenth century diarist, who left in cypher an intimate picture of himself and his day, is now given credit for pioneering—if not inventing—that useful gadget of the times—the slide rule. He dwells so much and so regretfully on his own frailties, his love of "noggins of hope," his domestic squabbles and the company of the frail femmes, his ambition to own a carriage and pair and his hopes that navy contractors will remember him with presents, that one must go to contemporary history to learn of the useful part he played as an admiralty official in the building up of Britain's navy.

HE PIONEERED THE SLIDE RULE

Pepys makes frequent reference in his early life, when checking purchases of timber for the "wooden walls of England," to the usefulness of a "measuring ruler" made to his own order. He gives it the name it bears today of "slide rule," and late in life mentions with regret that among the articles taken from his person by a highwayman was "a silver ruler."

He says it was "the best and most commodious for carrying in one's pocket, and most useful that ever was made, and myself have the honor of being, as it were, the inventor of this form of it." Unquestionably, Pepys slide rule was a plot of logarithms which enabled him to multiply and divide easily, and calculate the volumetric content of timbers.

So much for Pepys' engineering foresight. How far medical research lagged behind engineering skill in his day. A year or two after he first makes mention of his slide rule, the great plague of London came. Plagues had been sweeping over the continent, and ravaging the seaports. It is identified today as a malignant form of bubonic, carried then as now by rats. But on June 7, 1665, Pepys makes this pregnant entry in his diary: "This day, much against my will, I did in Drury Lane see two or three houses marked with a red cross on the doors and 'Lord Have Mercy Upon Us' writ thereon; which was a sad sight to me, being the first of the kind that, to my remembrance, I ever saw. It put me into an ill conception of myself and of my smell, so that I was forced to buy some roll tobacco to smell and to chaw, which took away my apprehension."

THE WAY TO COMBAT "B.O."

The old black roll tobacco, strong as any witches brew, and cured in rum, was powerful enough to anaesthetize the olfactory nerves of the user. Having screened his "B.O." with chews of vile-smelling roll tobacco Pepys was freed from apprehension of the plague.

For a hundred years after Pepys, a bath was considered a dangerous thing, to be taken only on a doctor's prescription. We have to thank the modern plumber (and his boy who goes back to the shop to bring the tool) along with the medical scientist for freedom today from the ravaging plagues of past centuries.

Some of the best films in the world come from Soviet Russia. They have a marked difference from American films, in which the story, whether it be Cleo, a little girl, grandfather deLesseps building the Suez Canal or Marco Polo exploring the far-off kingdoms of the great Khan, must always hinge on the sex urge of a handsome youth and fluffy femme. Russian films take for their themes the great stark conflicts of man against fate, against starvation and cold, against tyranny and the silent, grinding economic forces of life. Perhaps the differing dramas spring from the different environments of the two. In one case a great people suffering the birth-pangs of a new social order, in the other, luxurious life amid the sunshine and palms, where every player owns a canoe, a string of polo ponies and a private swimming pool, and life is enlivened by cocktail parties and fat fights over women.

SINCE RUSSIA WENT ROMANTIC

Since Soviet Russia went romantic over Brian Grover and his Russian wife, with Papa Stalin giving the young couple forgiveness and blessing against a background of grounded airplanes and prison walls, Russia has opportunity to produce a Russian film, a la Hollywood, with the young hero and heroine folded in each other's arms in the final fadeout.

Russia is going modern in other ways too. "Pravda," the Communist party organ, has been denouncing the wastefulness of Comrade Pekar, "a young style maniac" in the central model shop. Some of his recent designs in women's footwear are "Soviet Music," with an open toe and a treble clef buckle; "Park of Culture and Rest," featuring a high heel like a parachute tower and a parachute design on the toe. Other models he has produced are "Collective Harvest" and "Flight from Moscow to North America."

If Comrade Pekar is expelled for waste, he'll be worth his weight in cavaire as a designer in Paris or New York.

OLD SHAMUS MOTTO

A friend from Bagdad has been talking with me about the most famous servant in Mesopotamia, Shamu, the Chaldean, who cared for me during some two months of adventurous travel.

Vividly the picture comes to mind of the old man, dressed in native fashion, half in foreign clothes, saying, as he took me on at Aleppo, "I make good business for my master." I always associate that phrase with the faithful, brave, resourceful dragoman. He did indeed "make good business" for his master, in desert perils, in bazaars, and in the dreadful blizzard that held our raft storm-stayed under the ruins of Nineveh.

Often Shamu comes to mind to admonish me that, as a Christian, my supreme concern should be to "make good business for my Master."

Lord, we pray today for the grace to be faithful servants of Jesus Christ. Amen.

Cruelty of Poisoning Dogs

Editor, Bulletin: I have always heard that there is a way to everyone's heart if you can find it. Through this I hope to reach the heart of the dog poisoner. Mine, I imagine, is about as good a case as any other to touch his heart.

A few mornings ago I said goodby to my beloved pet, who was a picture of health and happiness, and went in town. Returning in the afternoon, I found him on the lawn in front of my house in agony. He dragged himself to me and every effort was an appeal for me to do something, as I should, be having every confidence in me, to relieve him of the torture in his vital organs. I rushed him in my car to the veterinary.

He did what he could to help him and gave me medicine to offset the poison, I brought "man's best friend" home, but in spite of everything that I could do to save him, he died in my arms in a few hours.

My dog cannot be brought back to life, but I send this to you in the hope that you will publish it and that perhaps the poisoner will see it and realize the frightfulness of his deeds and the distress it brings—and sin no more.

I feel that if the poisoner will just stop to think of the diabolical cruelty inflicted in body and mind, that he will never give poison again to a poor, defenseless dumb animal. I trust that will be the case.

RICHARD THOMPSON.

Editor, Bulletin: True democracy means universal contentment. Have we got it in Canada? . . . Purely rhetorical.

We have poverty, unemployment, bitterness, disillusion. Naturally we'd like to have employment, happiness, security. We'd like to have a future clear of ominous and dreadful thunder clouds. We'd like to have relief from the mental shadow of World Fascism. World Brutality.

We don't like to have our people sitting in post offices. We'd like to see a popular request return showing of the Golden Rule.

And, you know, if we all wanted these things bad enough, I think we could get them.

We're Canadians, aren't we? Let's make that mean something. We should stand firmly behind the British Empire (while we aren't doing), first because we are proud to, and second because we have to.

We should stand firmly behind the U.S.A. as the leaders in the Western Hemisphere, against the world threat of the Mailed Fist. You see, we're not really being firm enough; we're not being firm at all. The sands of Canada are shifting under our feet. So how can we be firm with anybody?

Our job is to make Canada something firm, something to be proud of. . . . We haven't had a thrill or pride since Vimy Ridge or certain of R.B.B.'s masterpieces. We don't want another Vimy Ridge and we haven't got another R.B.

What we have got is the loveliest, richest, roomiest country in the world.

But what have we got in it? A bunch of yowling, schoolboy politicians from coast to coast; thousands upon thousands of embittered jobless men; lecherous blobs of capital that clog and clog the blood stream of the nation. The lousiest highways on the continent. Scandalous wages, scandalous produce prices, scandalous everything.

We are industriously cultivating a fertile field for the very dubtines we hold in horror . . . lam after lam after lam.

And, sadly, we haven't a leader that isn't blown-up, chest-pounding, bellowing, spiteful . . . at least darn few.

We have about a half a dozen Moses that are leading us madly around in circles. We don't ever think for ourselves. We read the papers, shrug our shoulders; listen to the radio, shrug our shoulders.

What's the matter? Do we need monkey glands or a shot in the arm? I think we should do a little concerted thinking and acting. Not revolutionary, not raring and shouting and bloody. . . . But, shall we say, intelligently? STAN REID.
Vegreville.

By FRED WILLIAMS

Ninety years ago today (Feb 1, 1849), the Earl of Elgin went to the House of Parliament at Montreal and gave the Royal assent to the amnesty bill. Chief beneficiary was William Lyon Mackenzie, who was enabled to return shortly afterwards.

There has been a lot written about this amnesty by sympathizers with Mackenzie, who have stated that the amnesty was due to the efforts of Joseph Hume and other Radicals in England. But the facts prove that the amnesty was the act of the Lafontaine-Baldwin ministry aided by Lord Elgin.

Later Lord Elgin expressed the belief that "if I were to take the initiative next session and propose in parliament an act of oblivion it would have an admirable effect as carrying a tacit but very telling recognition on the part of the imperial government of the conduct of the Canadians."

When the amnesty bill was debated in the assembly it was opposed by the "Tories, bound by MacNab, to make mischief, demanding the producing of the correspondence which I refused." The opposition was defeated by a large majority and Elgin in the Queen's name gave assent to the historic "act of grace and mercy."

"How to Make a Lovely Peach Cordial" is the title of an article in a contemporary. One method is to say "What a pretty little hat!" and then ask her to have a double cocktail.

The train was a slow one, and it had no restaurant car, so that when it arrived at the junction Winkle's tongue was hanging out with thirst! On the other hand he dared not miss that train. So he stuck his head out of the window and called to the guard: "Guard, have I time to get a drink?"

"You have," replied 'hat worthy.

But Winkle was not quite reassured.

"Are you absolutely certain?" he asked. "Can you guarantee that the train won't go off without me?"

"I can," replied the guard. "I can for you shall give me a drink, too."

Edward Howell, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. H. Howell, died Saturday afternoon following an appendectomy. "Teddy" as he was popularly known was nineteen years of age and was well known in the Lloydminster younger set. He graduated from the high school here and was known for his fine hockey and ability as a pianist.

At the commencement of the game Saturday evening between Vermilion and the Lloyd Pirates the teams lined up on either side of the blue lines and observed a minute's silence in his memory.

He leaves besides his parents, two sisters and one brother, an uncle and aunt, as well as his grandparents.

Sylvan Lake ratepayers met Friday when A. K. Hicks, secretary-treasurer of the village presided and A. McCannel, auditor from Calgary was present and gave full details of the financial statement which he said was the best in several years.

Municipal taxes collected were: $9,808; licenses, $163; camp ground receipts, $320; ball park, $69; expended for public works, $3,008; police, $900; secretary's salary, $720; relief, etc., $2,200. The assets exceed the liabilities by $15,209.

NORTH RED DEER

No Unemployment Booked At North Red Deer Village

There is little or no unemployment in the village of North Red Deer and the amount of money spent for relief in 1938 is almost half of what was spent in 1937 for that purpose. There has been a 20 per cent increase in tax collections. It was reported by secretary-treasurer S. G. Broadfoot at the annual ratepayers meeting held in the village hall recently.

Less relief has been required in the village than for several years a system for paying back school taxes has been worked out and there has been considerable repair work and building done in recent months.

INNISFAIL

Recognizing the splendid cooperation between the Innisfail volunteer fire brigade and the town, the members of the brigade were the guests of the town council at a banquet held in the Modern cafe recently when words of appreciation were given the guests for their valuable services, by Mayor Fox and others.

Following is the list of officers for the coming year: Thomas Kirkham, chief, with Thomas White, assistant, and Charles Griffith, secretary. Mrs. Wynn drives the hose truck, with Lyle Hall, chief engineer, and Joseph Thomson and F. Kirkham, chemical drivers. R. Baines is hose captain with John Miller in charge of the ladders. Certain recommendations were made by the chief for even higher efficiency. During the past year, 1938, the town has not had a single fire loss.

LOUGHEED

The Melgrave Valley Mutual Telephone Company held its annual meeting in the community hall when it was reported that the company now has 56 telephones in operation.

Officers for the coming year are: E. N. Petersen, president; D. Mallis, vice-president; S. J. Denbeau, secretary-treasurer. G. Johnson, D. Mallis and C. Albright, directors.

News!

J. A. McNeil, managing editor of the Montreal Gazette, recently appointed general manager of Canadian Press. The appointment of Mr. McNeil was unanimously approved by the board of directors of the C.P., following the retirement of J. F. B. Livesay, whose resignation takes effect June 30 next, and Mr. McNeil takes up his new duties on July 1.

BONNYVILLE

MAN SUFFERS BRAIN INJURY

Smashed on the side of the skull by a falling tree, Alberta Laforce, Bonnyville woodsman, suffered a cerebral concussion late Friday afternoon. The accident occurred a few miles from the Lefebre lumber camp at Crane Lake, 30 miles north of here.

Laforce also suffered from exposure when he lay unconscious in the snow for an hour while his companion, Paul Lemieux ran to the camp to get a team to transport him to shelter. He passed Friday night at the camp and was brought in to Bonnyville at the St. Louis hospital by sleigh and by car late Saturday afternoon.

An attempt was made to secure an airplane to make a mercy flight here and transport the sick man to Edmonton, but as the plane could not be secured before Sunday, plans for the flight were abandoned. He will likely be taken to Edmonton by train to procure a specialist's attention.

BONNYVILLE

Administration of the 1938 village council was reviewed in a favorable light last Saturday as the annual meeting of that body was held. Date of civic election was set for February 6, when two vacancies will be filled. Mayor J. A. Dubuc's three-year term ends this year and B. J. Deasureau's resignation earlier this year brings about an election for a third councillorship. Mayor J. A. Dubuc will seek a second term. Joseph Hamel remains as councillor for another year.

INNISFAIL

At the annual ratepayers' meeting last night held in the town hall Dr. McLean in charge of the Red Deer health unit gave a splendid report in regard to the local school. Favorable reports were given as to conditions of the dairies, hotels and restaurants and the sanitary conditions in general, with recommendations towards the disposal of manures and other garbage.

An isolation hospital for contagious diseases is most desirable. During the past year at an expense of about $200 to the town, 405 children, 38 babies and pre-school children were examined. 394 visionary tests were given and 113 children received inoculation and vaccinations against contagious diseases.

BEVERLY

Waiting room and pumphouse belonging to the Beverly rink were totally destroyed by an early morning fire on Monday. It is thought that some ashes may have been spilled on the floor and these have smouldered throughout the night. The gasoline engine, pump and hose used to flood the rink were in the building at the time of the fire and property loss is estimated at $300, which is partly covered by insurance. The property was owned by the Beverly sports committee, who supply sport equipment to the Beverly school.

Dapper Don, Veteran Confidence Man, Faces Sing Sing Life Term

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—Sartorially impeccable down to his pearly gray spats, (Dapp Don) Collins, 58, picturesque old-time confidence man, appeared in the police lineup yesterday and gently, with a sad shake of his head, denied the latest charge against him.

The veteran police character brushed an invisible speck off his brown coat as acting police captain John G. Stein read the charge—acting in concert with three other men in exhorting $200 from Mrs. Helen Underhill on a threat of deporting her husband for allegedly entering the United States illegally. Is this true?" asked Captain Stein.

Collins sighed, "No," he said.

With a wounded air, he heard Captain Stein describe him to the assembled detectives as "a man who has been known internationally as a thief since 1904."

It was all very distressing. "Dapper Don" implied, perhaps remembering the halcyon days of genteel grafting when he carried a $100,000 bankroll and lived in Paris.

Collins faces a possible life sentence on conviction as a fourth offender.

Forest Reserve

REGINA, Feb. 1.—A new forest reserve will be established in northern Saskatchewan about 60 or 70 miles north of Nipawin by an amendment to the Forest Act, 1931, First reading of the bill was given in the legislature Tuesday.

Recommendations On Wheat Policy Will Be Studied

REGINA, Feb. 1.—The interprovincial wheat conference at its opening session here Tuesday decided to appoint a sub-committee to study recomendations to be made to the Dominion government regarding a federal wheat policy during the crop year 1939-40.

The conference, with Premier John Bracken of Manitoba as chairman, suggested to the sub-committee for guidance the meeting's "unanimous opinion that the Dominion government should be requested to extend to the western wheat growers in respect of the wheat to be grown in the crop year 1939-40, at least the protection given in the crop year 1938-39."

Seek Answer To Huge Surplus Of Butter In Canada

OTTAWA, Feb. 1.—Some answer to the problem created by a huge surplus of butter in Canada was sought Tuesday by a meeting of 35 Liberal members of the House of Commons from Ontario and Quebec dairying districts. The surplus of 20,000,000 pounds compares to an ordinary surplus of about one-fifth of that.

To study the question in more detail and draft a definite program, the meeting appointed a committee of 12 under chairmanship of George Wood (Brant).

NO TIME TO MARRY

By ELINOR L. STONE

CAST OF CHARACTERS

JANET DWIGHT, heroine. She was engaged to handsome young architect.

LANCE BARSTOW, hero. Lance had great dreams for the future. So did

CYNTHIA CANTRELL, orphaned granddaughter of great-aunt Mary Cantrell, still another dreamer and

BARNEY McKNIGHT, newspaperman. But Barney was more than a dreamer.

Yesterday: Janet finds that Tim Benton's generosity has saved her pride after the long absence Barney returns; he and Janet are caught in a fog, forced to sleep in his car.

CHAPTER XVIII

ONCE Barney roused long enough to pat her arm and murmur a drowsy apology; then he promptly dropped off again.

Janet did not wake him until a brisk wind scattered the fog and made driving possible. It was almost daylight when they rode into town.

"If anyone sees us," Janet told him as they stopped before Breckenridge, "you may have to make an honest woman of me."

"You can't scare me, Aunt Mary doesn't own a shotgun," Barney grinned. Then his grin twisted, and his eyes held hers almost defiantly. "Of course this wouldn't make any difference to you," he blurted out, "but I can think of a lot of things I'd hate worse . . . Well, I guess you know the way in. I've got to run."

Before Janet could find words he had driven away . . . Of course it was just some more of Barney's nonsense. Nevertheless, she could not forget the way his eyes had searched hers.

Aunt Mary's door was closed when Janet stepped into the hall outside. Apparently she had gone to sleep and slept the night through. Janet never knew why she opened the door and peeped inside. She had not intended at once, either, what it was about the appearance of Aunt Mary's room that struck dull to her heart, even before she had opened the door wide enough to see more than the small area of rug at the head of the bed.

Of course the bed lamp was burning; but Aunt Mary often slept with a light.

Later, Janet remembered that it was the book on the floor. It was sprawled open, face downwards, with the leaves bent and crumpled. Aunt Mary, who cherished her books as she cherished her next of kin, would never have left a book lying like that . . . Yet she had.

A cold blast of air greeted Janet as she went in.

The bed was empty. There was only a neat dent in the pillow, a slight depression of the covers to indicate that it had been occupied.

Over by the front windows, under the wind-billowed curtains, lay Aunt Mary in a crumpled heap on the floor. She must have risen from the bed at the sound of the approaching motor horn, hoping, perhaps, that it was Barney's—of course this was only Janet's sense-dropped her cherished book heedlessly on the rug in her haste, and hurrying to the window, slipped and fallen on the polished floor.

She was unconscious when Janet reached her. She remained unconscious for hours after she was taken to the hospital. The resident physician whom Janet talked to first said little but looked grave and a dangerous chill. Apparently she had lain for hours in her thin nightgown under those wind-blown curtains.

Janet tried desperately to get a message to Cynthia at Nice. But Cynthia and Timothy Benton had moved on since the last card had come, and her message missed them. It was six weeks before Janet actually caught up with them in Cairo, and by that time it was too late.

When she tried to get Barney at the office of his newspaper, she was told by a crisp secretarial voice that McKnight was out of town . . . No, the office couldn't say where he was to be found. When Janet tried his home telephone later, it was silent. For the first time Janet realized how much she had come to depend on Barney.

Lance called her up—first at the apartment, as the switchboard girl told her later, and finally at the hospital. By that time Aunt Mary's chill had developed into pleurisy—overnight it was pneumonia. The surgeon who set Janet's broken arm said that she would probably never walk again.

Janet was at the hospital when Lance's call came.

"Janet," Lance said, "I—I'm sorry than I can tell you. Isn't there something I can do?"

"I'm afraid not, Lance. Only the doctor is much use." Janet said wearily—quite as if he were any of a hundred others who had called to ask the same question.

"It won't hurt like this forever, Jan," Cynthia had said. "I know. And unbelievably, Cynthia had been right.

So many people wanted to help that Janet—especially after the first week—found it hard to understand why Barney was not among them.

Thanksgiving came and went. Christmas was at hand . . . Aunt Mary had always been as excited as a child about Christmas. She had passed the pneumonia crisis safely, to the complete astonishment of her doctors, but continued to suffer a great deal from her hip.

It was the day Cynthia's radiogram came from Cairo that Janet, firmly ejected from Aunt Mary's room by the nurse, went out for a walk in the park.

On the bench from which you could see the white house, nestling, cameo-like, against the bare winter hillside, Janet found the old gentleman she had talked with there before, a bag of peanuts on the bench beside him, an opened newspaper on his knee.

One squirrel was on his shoulder, and another scrambled up his left leg. Another sat on a low branch overhead, his lower jaw quivering at the seductive crackling of the paper. The old gentleman had aged noticeably; but he glanced up with a friendly twinkle as Janet approached.

"You must have been missing your daily dozen, young lady," he said, making room for her. "You don't look quite up to snuff."

Janet explained. "I'm not. My aunt—the only mother I remember—has been very ill for over a month. Perhaps you read about her accident—Mrs. Mary Cantrell? It was in the papers."

"Mrs. Mary Cantrell!" He looked startled. "Then—are you Miss Janet Dwight?"

He cracked several nuts, scanning her face covertly as he did so. "Miss Dwight," he said finally, "I find myself in the unpleasant predicament of most people who talk too much . . . You see, I do read the society page. When I can't read it aloud to my wife before she—went on; and got the habit of it. I remember seeing an announcement about your breaking your engagement . . . I hope—of course if I'd only known who you were, I'd have kept my fool mouth shut that day."

"Oh, please," Janet cried quickly, "that was something I had a right to know . . . Things like that happen to be really important to me. When I broke my engagement, that was one of the reasons—but only one. . . . Anyhow, all that doesn't seem to matter now," she finished. "That's fine!" he said.

As if glad to change the subject, he went on, tapping the newspaper on his knee, "Things like that do get in the news besides the doings of society these days. This now. Here's a young man who's done something no one else in this town's ever had the nerve to try."

As Janet glanced down, phrases leaped out at her from the page: "Beginning Monday" . . . "Series of articles" . . . "dramatic exposure" . . . "graft ring" . . . "exclusive story by—"

"Why!" she cried. "But I know him well!"

So Barney was in town. He must be if his story had broken . . . And he hadn't even taken the trouble to call her up.

Your Health — By Dr. Frank McCoy

Although most doctors frown upon the use of the word bilious, I find that many patients complain of biliousness and it is certain that a sick man is not concerned so much with the correct name of his symptoms as he is with relief.

When the average layman develops a certain set of symptoms he immediately pictures himself as bilious. We can not get very far away from the fact that the name biliousness has come to stand for something in the popular mind, and the average person readily understands what is meant by it, whereas he might be confused if a different terminology were used.

The patient who is bilious is blue, depressed and weary; he has a headache, coated tongue and poor appetite. The skin has a muddy, sallow look and the whites of the eyes may take on a yellowish tinge. His stomach is upset and he may be constipated. In addition, he may have a fever. As a general rule, he will feel miserable for a few days, after which the liver reduplicates itself and the symptoms disappear.

The most common cause of biliousness is overeating and particularly the excuse of rich foods. The patient with a sluggish liver and any of these bilious symptoms should do well to omit fats, greasy foods, sugars and starches for a time, and to use a larger amount of vegetables instead.

When the body is enervated by bad habits other than incorrect eating, the liver may seem to be unable to take care of an extra amount of heavy food. Any habit which wastes energy which should be given to the liver will in time induce a sluggishness of this organ in those with a tendency to biliousness. Late hours, worry, excitement, and other excesses are therefore potent causes of bilious symptoms as they may deprive the liver of the energy it needs to function.

It is especially important for the patient with any tendency to biliousness to maintain strict intestinal cleanliness. If the colon refuses to empty itself normally, then the enema may be used temporarily to secure an immediate cleansing. In the meantime, the patient should be warning how to adjust his diet so as to provide more bulk with the idea of re-training the colon to cleanse itself with regularity.

Vigorous exercise is another helpful measure which may be used in banishing biliousness. Correct diet, intestinal cleanliness and plenty of exercise are the three most important aids which may be employed in helping the liver to function well enough so that no further trouble is experienced.

During the actual attack of biliousness, the patient will often experience marked relief by going on a diet of only green vegetables. Two or three meals a day should be used, which are made up of any vegetables the patient desires. Some patients prefer to use the cooked vegetables with butter as a seasoning; while others prefer to use their vegetables in the form of a non-starchy soup, taking several small meals a day of this soup mixture whenever they get hungry. Generally this vegetable regimen needs to be kept up only two or three days at the most.

To get the quickest results it is best to take one or two enemas a day to keep the colon clean. It is perfectly safe to use as large an amount as desired of the vegetables. They will prevent a desire for other food for which the patient may become "lonesome" unless well filled with the vegetables or vegetable soup.

If there is considerable headache, dizziness or nausea, the patient experiencing a bilious attack is better off in bed. Usually, the symptoms will soon pass away and afterward it is important to adopt better habits of living which will prevent further attacks.

Famed Duo-Pianists Claim Theirs Is A Gypsy Life, But Admit They Love It

"I THINK we were intended for a gypsy life . . ." laughingly declared Vronsky, gather, which is spent almost continually in travelling, who with her husband, Mr. Rae Robertson, arrived Wednesday morning for their duo-piano concert in the evening, portrayed a little of the gypsy spirit Bulletin reporter in the lounge room of the Macdonald Hotel this morning with her brown eyes laughing and a smile playing about the corners of her lips.

Not at all perturbed at having to play three concerts in one week in places as far apart as 1300 miles, Miss Bartlett and Mr. Robertson find that the wandering life is the one they love and even bumpy trains aren't minded "too much." "Our tragedy," Mr. Robertson, who was present, said, "is that we cannot stop off at any of the beauty spots throughout America. We've passed the Grand Canyon eight times and we have never seen it yet."

FIRST VISIT TO EDMONTON

Arriving from Winnipeg, where they played on Monday night, Mr. and Mrs. Robertson are seeing Edmonton for the first time.

"And we won't see very much of it," they remarked, for they leave again on Thursday morning for Vancouver, where they play on Friday evening.

Playing their tenth season in America, they still love to come "Others named as favorites are selections in the club are as follows: Miss Marjorie Griffith, vice-president; Miss Pauline Pearl, secretary; Miss Vivian Wilton, treasurer; Miss Ruth Hillas, social convener and Miss Audrey Calvert, press reporter.

Farm Women Receive Benefit From Home Culture Classes

During 1938 there were 129 demonstrations for farm women given throughout the province under the direction of the provincial agricultural department, it was announced on Tuesday. This is a considerable increase over the figures for the previous year, when 72 demonstrations were given.

PRACTICAL SUBJECTS

The demonstrations were given by departmental workers and in so far as possible, practical subjects were chosen and in some districts an attempt was made to give instruction in the manufacture of articles that might have a sales value. Such projects as glove-making, chenille flower making and others, have possibilities of increasing the family income.

Several projects, dealing with foods, were offered, and in all these, the nutritional value of various food-stuffs were given particular emphasis. Courses were offered in dressmaking and sewing and suggestions for decorating and home furnishing were advanced.

INTEREST HIGH

Most of the demonstrations were of one or two days' duration, but in a few cases, courses of three or four days were held. The interest in this type of extension work was extensive and besides presenting valuable information to the farm women, it created community feeling by reason of the contacts afforded by the meetings.

While this type of program was the main form of women's extension service in 1938, a few lectures for women were given at field days and were appreciated. Lectures on horticultural subjects, poultry, beekeeping and certain phases of dairying were requested at a few field day meetings.

Education Tends To Develop Critical Attitude To Men

By RUTH MILLET

Education has done a lot for women. But it has developed one unfortunate class—the large group of girls who are always discriminating about men than their physical attractiveness gives them a right to be.

Take a girl whose looks (from the masculine standpoint) are below par and whose brains are above and give her an education that "takes." Right away you have a young woman who has a good, well-trained mind, a sensitive heart and soul and feeling, and a sense of discrimination that makes her turn up her nose at the kind of man she can get.

SAD RULE

Because it seems to be a sad, but true, rule that the kind of man she wants—one who can get any kind of wife—inevitably falls for a girl who is above average in attractiveness—no matter what her I. Q.

So the well-educated girl with no great appeal to the opposite sex sits around waiting for the kind of man her good taste and education could approve.

All too often he never comes along—and the girl turns into a lonely woman who has missed her chance at building a home and starting a family of her own.

Without education, she might happily have married the sort of man she could get, but she feels now that she is much too good for him.

There's no perfect solution to her problem. But we do see in a while, when a girl, is able to face her situation in time, she does what Dora did.

SOLUTION

She marries a man who hasn't her education or her social graces, a man who is looking for the things he lacks. And she gives those things to him.

She may never turn him into the man of her dreams, but she soon forgets that superior creature anyway. And she feels that companionship and family life are a good exchange for the lone way of living she was beginning to dread.

Every girl can't bring herself to make such a compromise, but the ones who can manage it seem to turn into pretty happy wives and mothers.

Miss McCuaig Of V.O.N. Is City Visitor

That a view of the wide extent and deep value of the work being done throughout Canada by members of the Victorian Order of Nurses, will be brought to Their Majesties, King George VI and Queen Elizabeth during their visit to Canada this spring by Her Excellency Lady Tweedsmuir, is the earnest hope of Miss Mary McCuaig, western supervisor of the V.O.N. who is a visitor in Edmonton this mid-week.

HERE TODAY

Stopping off in Edmonton, unofficially, en route to the Pacific coast, Miss McCuaig will be a city visitor until Thursday morning. Chatting briefly with a Bulletin reporter in the Macdonald Hotel following her arrival on Wednesday morning, she said the work of the order is progressing very favorably and during the past year eight new branches have been formed across Canada while several more are in the process of organization.

Miss McQuaig, who is going to Vancouver to officially organize a new branch expects to return to Edmonton in early March and will spend a week here in connection with V.O.N. work.

On Monday she talked briefly with Miss Mae Deane-Freeman, Victorian Order of Nurses, matron of Nurses in Edmonton and with Mrs. T. Harold Field, president of the Edmonton branch of the society.

Although the staff has been reduced in Edmonton, the work is not lessened and the staff reduction is only possible because of a relief nurse who is available at a moment's notice for a great responsibility for extension work in the Edmonton district," Miss McQuaig said.

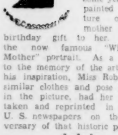

NATIONAL MEET

"Due to the Royal visit, the national annual meeting in Ottawa will be held in mid-April, earlier than usual this year," Miss McQuaig continued. "and it is hoped that something of the work of the V.O.N. will be brought before Their Majesties by Lady Tweedsmuir, who is so keenly interested."

Miss McQuaig pays two official visits to the west each year, the first of which for 1939 will be in March, on her return to eastern Canada from Vancouver.

MAY ROBSON, film actress, last week celebrated an anniversary. It was a most unusual one for, unlike most anniversaries, it had nothing to do with herself. James Abbott Mc-

Neill Whistler, who died just after the turn of the century, on January 10 some years past painted a picture of his mother as a birthday gift to her. It is known as "Whistler's Mother" portrait. As a tribute to the memory of the artist and his inspiration, Miss Robson, in similar clothes and pose as that in the picture, had her picture taken and reprinted in several U. S. newspapers on the anniversary of that historic painting.

She hasn't got a chance. Statistics compiled in Chicago just recently say that next June's sweet girl high school graduate will be the last to be in three of getting married within the next five years, and two chances in five of being married within the year. If she goes right to work, she'll not be married as soon as the non-working girl, and she'll run a greater risk of being divorced than her stay-at-home sister. A group of sociologists headed by Lyle Spencer have compiled the statistics and they claim they can't be mistaken in their computations and calculations.

Anticipated visit of Their Majesties, King George VI and Queen Elizabeth to America, is having an effect on the jewelry industry. A new piece of British Queen Scotch jewelry will appear. Viewed in an eastern exhibit are a number of interesting bits—one, a Scottish dirk pin, with setting of sterling and body of plaid enamel. Also topped with amethyst, and another, a shield-shaped brooch of topaz, set with sterling silver, of thistle design and silk with plaid. Topaz and a Scotch agate border—are lovely heralds of summer jewelry fashion. All pieces are set in sterling, and most boast Scotch agate, amethyst and topaz. Thistle designs are popular.

The many patrons who attended the Philharmonic Society of the University of Alberta's presentation, "The Yeomen of the Guard," in Convocation hall last week, enjoyed the chamber alike with the singing and acting. Singing of Miss Marion (Pudgie) Williams as Phoebe and Meryll were particularly delightful. Quite in the Gilbert and Sullivan mood, she sang sweetly and clearly and matched her acting with her voice. An excellent and delightful performance among a number of very good ones. Congratulations, Marion.

Answer to the feminine complaint, "My dear, I just bought a new hat and now I can't bear to wear it!" is given in Winnipeg. There is a shop in that city, which is not a shop, which is in fact, a trading post in the truest and most ancient and honorable connotation of the word. Located only a few hundred yards away from the space where a trading post once stood, it presents a different scene to that of 100 years ago. Its customers are not natives, bearing furs, and its managers are not members of the "company of adventurers." Customers are, well, just anybody who is tired of something they've got, and who wants something else in exchange. Members of the McGillen Guild of the Children are the traders. Profits, for they insist on those, are in the cause of sweet charity. Now lamps for old. —F. D. H.

Firm Hand On Head Will Keep Necklines Smooth

According To Culbertson

There were very few questions in the recent examination that involved psychological bidding, and in none of them was the examinee asked to make a "phony" or psychic bid. The conditions of vulnerability, however, made certain "readings" possible, not only in the case of selecting the correct answer, but also when it came to gauging which, if any, of the previous calls around the table had been dishonest. Let us review Question 34.

Only North-South vulnerable, the bidding went:

West	North	East	South
1 spade	Double	Redouble	?

You are South, and hold:

♠AQ ♥Q8 ♦10 4 3 2 ♣QJ1084

What call do you make?

The official answer was that South should bid two no trumps, and I pointed out that somebody at the table was certainly "lying." I fully agree with those correspondents who wrote that "South could not possibly hold all the aforesaid when in view of the one spade bid by West, the double by North, and the redouble by East." The point was, however, that South should have had the vision and courage to realize that there was much greater chance that East had made a "phony" redouble, when not vulnerable, than that North had made such a take-out double when vulnerable. It was all very well for certain contestants to protest that in order to answer such questions correctly they would have to know their partner's opponents, but I do not feel that their point was well taken. Every one has had the experience of sitting in a strange game with a strange partner, against unfamiliar opponents, and it is a sure cure for that feeling so many women have in their necks at the end of the day.

PLAYTIME ENSEMBLE FOR 2 TO 8

Square Or Peter Pan Collar

A free and easy to wear play dress, equally popular with toddlers or older sister. Matching panties make it a complete outfit. The one-piece flared dress may have a low square neck or a Peter Pan collar. Two patch pockets, that are always a joy to youngsters, are also optional. The amusing appliqué embroidery is effective in multi-coloring on the plain chambray dress. Sturdy percale print is a favorite with snowy white ruffling as its only trim for the open square neck dress.

Woven striped English cotton in candy stripes, cotton challis print, chambray, etc., are cunning as they are popular.

Style No. 2094 is designed for sizes 2, 4, 6 and 8 years. Size 8 requires 2 yards of 39-inch material with 1¼ yards of binding for dress and pantees.

The bidding:

East	South	West	North
1 club	Pass	1 diam.	1 heart
1 spade	Double	Pass	Pass
2 clubs	2 spades	Pass	Pass
3 clubs	3 spades	Double	Pass
Pass	Pass

South's bidding in this sequence should be studied as a model of ragingess. It will be noted that South, holding an eight card spade suit to the A-K, and with excellent distribution outside, meekly passed over East's one club. South's idea, of course, was to enter the bidding later and perhaps coax a double without having to go too far for it. As it happened, South's plan was given a tremendous lift by the immediate course of bidding. When North put his next call out to bid one heart and was promptly doubled by East (not that I approve the double) South's modest one spade bid made its initial appearance in the apparent role of a rescue bid. Thus, when South later bid two and three spades, West finally was lured into the action that South had hoped for from the start. Undoubtedly West did not have a good double, but the fact remains that this particular West was a far better than average player. If he fell for South's psychology, the assumption is that thousands of other players would have done the same.

In the play of the hand, South applied equally sound psychology. West opened the club king. The ace won and, instead of attempting the hopeless ruffing a diamond, South won and ran off seven spades. East had great difficulty in discarding, eventually reducing to the A-Q of hearts, the A-J of diamonds, and the queen of clubs. South then threw East on lead with the club queen. East returned the ace and jack of diamonds. By covering the latter, South established his ten spot for an overtrick.

DESIGN No. 739—PATCHWORK PICTURE

Dear Readers: If you have all your life longed to be an artist, but nature ordained that you should be a needle-woman instead, here is your chance to create a picture after all. This quaint picture is made up solely of patches of bright felt or cloth, and are sewn in place just as one would make an applique block for a quilt. It is the ideal spot of brightness for a dull corner, and can be worked out to suit any surroundings. It can be made in a very short time, too, and would be a most unusual gift.

The pattern includes transfer of the design and cut-out patterns of the separate pieces, together with instructions for appliqueing and finishing.

Send 15 cents in coin for this pattern to The Edmonton Bulletin, Needlework Dept., Edmonton, Alberta.

DOROTHY DIX Says:

ONE of the chief grievances of domestic wives is that their husbands seem to regard them as merely household gadets, devised for their comfort and convenience, while so many other wives who spend their time in the beauty parlor instead of the kitchen are treated like Lady Loves by their husbands.

"Look at all we do for our husbands," cry these bewildered and disappointed ones. "We slave for them early and late. We pinch pennies to save their money. We go shabby that they might be well dressed when they go out in the world. We walk the babies at night so that they may have their sleep. We nurse them when they are sick and buck them up when they get discouraged. We cook them what they like to eat and do everything in our power to make them happy. And what appreciation do we get?

"None. Our husbands take us for granted and consider all we do for them as no more than their due. It is the Grabem Sisters who take all and give nothing, whose husbands worship them and wait on them hand and foot. It is the lazy wives whose husbands have to get up and get their own breakfasts; it is the extravagant ones whose husbands have to work their fingers to the bones to pay their bills that men go crazy over. So what's the use in being a good wife when the bad ones get all the love and attention?"

Which has the best chance of holding her husband, Patient Griselda or a glamor girl? Does a man love his wife for making him comfortable, or keeping him amused? Does a husband stay in love with his wife because she is a model of all the virtues, or because she retains her girlish figure and is a good-looker?

Nobody can answer these questions. Not even husbands and wives. And that is why marriage is such a gamble. It is a game where there are a hundred exceptions to every rule for playing it.

DOROTHY DIX.

TURNER—GOLDSWORTHY

Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Goldsworthy of Edmonton are announcing the marriage of their second daughter, Alice Emma Goldsworthy, to Robert Dick Turner, second son of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Turner, also of Edmonton. The wedding took place at First Presbyterian church at eight o'clock on January 28. Rev. Ross K. Cameron officiated.

Raising A Family

When I was little, I loved fairy tales. Most children did love them in those days, and a lot of them do still. But I find some difference in this newer generation. So many children seem to prefer tales about real people and adventures.

They like their fairy tales skilfully made up to sound like fact. In the old days we swallowed the djinns, fairy godmothers and witches whole, and wore our books down at the corners reading and re-reading about Cinderella, Rumpelstiltskin, Hansel and Gretel and all the rest. I think I can recite clear through all the tales that Hans Anderson and the Brothers Grimm ever wrote.

O. R. Barton

You are saying right this minute, I am sure, that children are still as credulous as we were. And older people, too. There is "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," for instance, that drew record crowds. That is true, but perhaps you would not sit down and read that story unless it was acted. Not thumb it over and over and take it to bed with you at night.

Children still love to see fairy-tales acted. And most likely, mother, you are saying, "Why, our Andy and Grace eat up the Oz books." Of course they do, and all books of their kind. That is because Dorothy is a real child to them, and they are clever narratives that make impossible fiction sound possible. Any of the books grouped under this head will always be favorites.

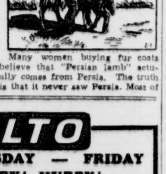

So will animal stories that come under the head of fairy tales. I do not mean that our youngsters have gone back on us and refuted the imaginative tale. Far from it. But they want something solid along with it. As a small child I read to say, "Let us just pretend there are fairies. I'll listen if you just play pretend."

LIVE CLOSE TO LIFE

Why are tastes changing? Because children have their eyes opened to the realities. They are living in a world that gives them a chance to live at first hand, instead of depending on dreams and imagination. I am sorry. I have always loved the fairy tale. Straight. Impossible. Fantastic. And of course many children today also prefer it. I am only speaking of tendency.

I should mix their books. Imagination should not be allowed to atrophy. Peter Pan asked, "Do you believe in fairies?" I was very quick to answer "Yes." For, you see, I do. Never-Never-Land is such a lovely place.

Many women buying fur coats believe that Persian lamb actually comes from Persia. The truth is that it never saw Persia. Most of the Persian lamb comes from Russia, Afghanistan and Southwest Africa. Persian lamb has the skins that are bound together by a cohesive membrane. Broadtail coats are made from the skins of newly (or prematurely born) "Persian lambs." Galyaks are the skins of prematurely born Persian lambs in which the curl has not developed. American broadtails are sheared, dyed and pressed fur (or wool) of domestic lambs.

Philosophy a Guide to Happier Living

Reap the Joys of a Fuller Life

None of us escape trouble! But there are ways of thinking that can protect us from the jolts and pains of this world. So thought the great Roman philosopher, Marcus Aurelius.

Sick at heart, crushed by the problem that confronts them both, Joan looks to Helen for comfort.

"Where does Helen find the strength to face her problem? Listen as she speaks. 'We must make the best of what is in our power and take the rest as it occurs.' These are the words of Epictetus, another noble philosopher who taught the way of courage."

From the philosophers you, too, can find courage, learn to apply simple rules to get what you want out of life. The great Plato tells you to satisfy the needs of the body, the emotions and the mind: "A person is at peace . . . when he has become one entirely temperate and perfectly adjusted nature."

Happily you discover a way to richer, fuller living in the pages of Plato, Aristotle, Epictetus, Marcus Aurelius, others. Our new 32-page booklet, Philosophy: A guide To Happier Living, brings you the great philosophies, helps you face life's difficulties, find peace in a troubled world.

Send 15c in coins for your copy of Philosophy: A Guide to Happier Living to The Edmonton Bulletin, Home Service, Edmonton, Alberta. Be sure to write plainly your name, address, and the name of the booklet.

JUDGES AWARD KING KONG DECISION

SPORTS BULLETIN

Looking Them Over

By Jack Kelly

Post Mortem Gets Appeal Consols Rinks

TODAY brings the most provocative of all sport topics, a fight post mortem. Just express any sort of an opinion and some one will give you a red-hot argument.

However, I think most fans who were at the Memorial Hall last night will agree that the preliminaries and semi-final produced all the action that can reasonably be expected. True enough the boys are not highly polished, but there is no denying that they went in there swinging good, honest punches and kept right at it until the final bell.

The main event presents a bit of a problem. The judges awarded Clayton the decision on points, but personally I couldn't see it that way. The best my score card could be made to do for Clayton was a draw. Evidently the judges decided in his favor on the grounds that he was the aggressor.

Generally speaking, the aggressor is entitled to the edge in a fight that is otherwise even-Stephen, but Clayton's aggressiveness must be off-set to a large extent by the fact that he carried over 20 pounds of advantage in weight and that his rushes seldom resulted in anything but a clinch. Against such an opponent, Lynch would have been foolish to take the lead and barge in. To my way of thinking these facts should cancel the deciding points that were apparently cast for aggressiveness.

No Match For Wenstob

IT WAS hoped that last night's main event might produce a possible opponent for Eddie Wenstob, but that hope was shot when neither fighter was able to win by either a knockout or a decisive margin.

Tommy Lynch proved that he has a dangerous array of fistic weapons —especially the neatest left hook I have seen in a long time—but his artillery didn't seem heavy enough to blast through the tough defensive Clayton maintained or to do any serious damage to his ironclad body. Lynch weighed in lighter yesterday than he has for any fight in nearly two years. Just why he was down on poundage was something he couldn't figure out and it worried him considerably.

On the other hand, Clayton showed just why he lasted three years as sparring partner to Mickey Walker. He has a hard defensive to penetrate, he can take it and he can hit hard enough to make anybody he is fighting with mighty cautious. However there is nothing sensational in his ring work—nothing that would pack the fans in at profitable prices.

Drawing power is what a promoter must have to keep alive in the fight game, and drawing power is what Clayton hasn't got. I doubt if you could find a handful of fans who think that the Herculean negro would have a chance of beating Wenstob.

Goldstick Swings Back

CECIL GOLDSTICK, who is coaching the E. A. C. Midgets, who in turn are going like a house on fire in Edmonton hockey, got so riled up yesterday that he took his pen in hand and wrote a letter to the editor. It seems that Cecil is being accused by supporters of rival midget teams of writing the publicity that has been given his team in the daily papers. He resents this and wants to make it clear that he is innocent of the charge.

As Goldy points out, the results of midget hockey games are generally phoned in or brought in to the sport departments by the referee in charge of the game. The stories are written for the Bulletin sport page by members of the staff. If the E. A. C. seem to be getting more publicity than other teams in the league, it is simply because of the impressive record they are piling up. Seven wins in eight games and five of them by shutouts spells news value anywhere.

Hutchinson Consols Winner

GEORGE HUTCHINSON and his rink emerged last night as the first district winners in the British Consols playdowns in the Edmonton area when he came through the round-robin series of the Alberta Avenue club with four straight wins. M. Roy is his lead, Alex Hudson is second and Alex Hudson Junior is third.

Charlie Cairns remains the leading rink in the Edmonton Club playdown in the Consols event, with nine wins and two losses. Hays is next with eight wins and two losses. He plays Hamilton next.

EASTWOOD SIX TRIUMPHS 8-1 STUDENT LOOP

Eastwood scored their second victory in three starts in the High School Senior Hockey League as they triumphed 8-1 over McDougall Commercial High in a league fixture at 90 street rink last night.

The game was every bit as lopsided as the score indicated, with McDougall only having seven players in uniform. The powerful Eastwood sextet had little trouble skating to victory. They blasted in three goals in the first and second periods and added two more in the third. McDougall scored their lone goal in the second.

PRINGLE STARS

Alex Pringle opened the scoring in the initial stanza on a pretty passing play with Joe Duchak and Ted Sharum. Joe Perucceni made it 2-0 a few minutes later and Pringle tallied again before the end of the period.

Bible scored the lone McDougall marker early in the middle session before Pringle, Bill Barber and George Hill made the score read 6-1 for the Eastwood squad. Barber and Hill scored on pretty solo dashes.

Alex Pringle clicked for his fourth goal of the evening in the final period and a few minutes later came back down the ice with the rubber and laid over a perfect pass to Sharum for the final goal of the game.

LINEUPS

Eastwood: McCauley, Wegren, Barber, Duchak, Pringle, Sharum, Jennings, Hill, Perucceni and Biehl.

McDougall: Mather, Dougan, Ross, Bible, Smith, Warawa, Stamp.

Referee: Alex McSporran

Fans Rally Behind Esks Game Tonight

Meet Calgary in Crucial Battle

TONIGHT Edmonton promises to rally behind the Eskimos in one city-wide drive to prove to Alberta and the west that this city is still a good hockey town and to provide the team with the sort of encouragement that helps a club win games.

At 8:30 p.m. the Eskimos face the Calgary Stampeders on the Arena ice in an Alberta League battle that Edmonton must win if its hopes of making the playoffs are not to be dimmed.

Coach Clem Loughlin and hundreds of stalwart fans here are convinced that if the Eskimos could best Drumheller 3-2 the other night at Drumheller, then they can come through with a win tonight over the Calgarians.

TOWNSEND READY

Determined to overlook no possibility of strengthening the Eskimos, although C.A.H.A. regulations reduce these possibilities to almost nothing at this time of year, Coach Clem Loughlin has arranged to have Art Townsend dressed tonight for use on the defence. Art paired with Ernie Kenny on the last pro Eskimo team under the managership of Duke Keats. He was a right rugged rear-guard who could bounce them hard and high. He has been coaching and playing in the Central Alberta League this season and is in fair shape, although he does not claim to be in the best of condition. He has agreed to play tonight just to help the Eskimos along.

The drive to get out 4,500 fans at least for tonight and each of the Esks' remaining home games that has been launched by the Lions Club is reported to be meeting with fine response from the general public.

"Our team certainly justified our confidence in them on Monday night and since we have been prone to be critical when they lost, let us be real sports and give them a welcome tonight that will carry them to another win," Jim Kellas declared today in speaking on behalf of the Lions drive. "Calgary turned out 3,500 fans the other night, let us step up to at least 5,000 and show these Stampeders tonight that Edmonton has just as good sports as Calgary has."

Duke Keats and Pete Rule will handle the whistles.

E.A.C. Win 2-1

Edmonton Athletic Club juveniles kept well in the lead in the Juvenile Hockey League last night as they defeated Canadians 2-1 at the 119 street rink. Rinstad tallied for Canadians in the initial stanza but Billy Maher evened the count in the middle session, while B. Barker salted the game away for E.A.C. with a third period goal.

ACES TROUNCE Y-ROYALS IN HOOP BATTLE

Arnold Henderson's Aces took the favorable end of a quiet one-sided game with the Y-Royals, the count being 34-24, playing in the senior league at the Athabasca gym Tuesday night. In the intermediate league the Boy Grads edged out the Varsity Bears intermediates 26-20.

The Aces continued their fine showing of basketball with Ed. Tomick, Lloyd Coutts and Shaw netting over the 10 bracket. Leading 32-12 at the end of the first half, they piled on 22 more points to the luckless Royals 10 in the second half.

In the intermediate game Dodds, Adzak, Gerbuson and Boyce garnered the 26 points between them with little difference in their accomplishments, while the collegians' sole competitor for points was Nalkey.

LINEUPS AND SCORERS

Aces: Tomick (16), Coutts (10), Ferguson (2), Lees (4), Henderson (4), Shaw (18).

Y-Royals: Campbell (2), Birch (6), Retalack (2), Melnyk (2), Hamilton (8), Hilliard (2), Sutton (2).

Lynch Attack Fails To Stop Giant Negro

By JACK KELLY
(Edmonton Bulletin Sports Editor)

BULL-LIKE rushes and a scattering of heavy punches won King Kong Clayton the judges' decision over Tommy Lynch of Montana in their 10-round fight at the Memorial Hall last night, a fight that left a slightly flat taste in the mouths of the fans after an exceptionally good card of free-slugging preliminaries.

The colored giant's victory was far from impressive. He had a full 20-pound advantage in weight and made good use of it. Fast, clever and master of probably the most wicked left seen here in years, Lynch lanced in with rapier-like thrusts against the herculean negro but they failed to stop the latter's shuffling rushes. It was like trying to stop a lumbering war tank with a sporting rifle.

Lynch cut Clayton's lips and opened a gash under one eye with a left hook that snapped in like a pistol shot. He reefed hard blows into Clayton's body and several times he stopped his rushes with a left to the face, but the colored giant appeared to be impervious to anything less than a siege gun.

LYNCH CLEVER

Bated as a clever, capable fighter, Lynch gave evidence that he was both. Up to the fifth round he was definitely leading on my score card. From then on he seemed to wilt a bit under Clayton's mauling. He was never in any danger of being knocked out by King Kong and neither was King Kong ever in any immediate danger of being knocked out by Lynch. Both men undoubtedly had kayoe voltage in their fists, but both kept themselves well insulated from the other's payoff punches.

Clayton took no chances with his speedy opponent, particularly on the in-fighting. He kept himself well covered and contented himself with rushing to land a punch and then clinching, wearing down his lighter opponent with his weight and terrific strength.

FAILED TO THROW RIGHT

Lynch gave satisfying evidence that he has a mastery of a vicious left, but he failed to throw his right except occasionally to the body.

Jerry Delane refereed the main event and semi-final, while Doug Kerr handled the preliminaries.

Johnny Janiten Decisions Flash Bailey in Semi-Windup

FOUR rousing preliminary bouts enlivened proceedings on the fight card staged at the Memorial Hall last night with Johnny Janiten, Bill Johnston and Jimmy Rintmer winning decisions and the other bout ending in a stalemate.

Recovering from a bombardment of leather that had him reeling as the bell ended the first round, Johnny Janiten pounded out a rather easy victory over Flash Bailey in the eight-round semi-final match. Bailey had a wide margin in the opening round but from then on it was all Janiten. Johnny won seven of the eight rounds.

The clever colored scrapper was not able to keep Janiten away and was badly outclassed at the infighting. Janiten definitely outweighed Bailey.

Fighting in the second of the two opening four-round bouts, Billy Johnston turned in one of the smartest exhibitions of boxing and punching ability seen during the evening as he took a well-

COLVILLES SPARK RANGERS TO WIN OVER HAWKS

Neil, Mac Feature All Goals 3-2 Win

NEW YORK, Feb. 1—Alex. Shibicky and his linemates, the Colville brother, provided all the goals for Rangers last night as the New Yorkers gained a 3-2 win over Chicago Black Hawks in a National Hockey League game.

A crowd of 6,000 watched the Rockies Hawks battle Rangers. Three minutes from the final buzzer with the count tied at 2-2, Neil Colville clinched the win on a pass from brother Mac. Shibicky tallied two earlier goals, both on double relays from the Colvilles.

Chicago went into the lead early in the first period on a freak goal scored by Clint Smith, Ranger forward, into his own net. Jack Shill was given credit for the goal, the other Black Hawk counter was tallied by Bob Gracie on a pass from Bill Thoms half way through the third period.

Another novelty was a penalty to Dave Kerr, Ranger goalie, for holding Cully Dahlstrom during a Hawk rush. The punishment was a penalty shot which Thoms shot wide.

Americans Stubbornly Fight Off Bruins to 2-2 Draw

BOSTON, Feb. 1—New York Americans stubbornly fought the leading Boston Bruins to a 2-2 overtime tie last night but slipped back into third place in the National Hockey League as New York Rangers, previously tied with them in second position, gained a victory over Chicago.

Ten thousand fans watched the game. Lorne Carr scored both American tallies and two minutes before the final bell he was carried off the ice after colliding with Boston's Eddie Shore.

CARR IS INJURED

The Americans had turned back one of Bruins' many five-man rushes and Carr and Shore skated out of the New York zone together. They became tangled and both crashed to the ice. Carr toppled over backwards and his head struck with a resounding thrump. He was knocked unconscious but revived as he was carried off the ice. He suffered a gash on his skull and a slight brain concussion.

Dit Clapper, Bruins' defenceman, was forced to retire early in the game when he suffered a shoulder-cut on his ankle that took four stitches.

Lethbridge Leafs Lengthen Lead By Shellacking Turner Valley 5-2

Ursaki, Milford, Klein and Barnes Score Goals in 5-2 Triumph

LETHBRIDGE, Feb. 1—Lethbridge Maple Leafs stretched their margin at the top of the Alberta Senior Hockey League standing to nine points by trouncing Turner Valley Oilers 5-2 here last night. Oilers remained tied in second place with Drumheller.

Johnny Ursaki with two, Jake Milford, Toad Klein and Harvey Barnes scored for Lethbridge. Stan Chakowski and Andy Chakowski tallied for Turner Valley.

OPENS SCORING

Milford, burly left winger, opened the scoring when he drove a smoking shot from just outside the Turner Valley blue line. The puck travelled a foot above the ice and nicked the left corner of the rigging, beating McKay cleanly. The marker came at 18:06.

Ursaki, peppery right winger, added another to the Lethbridge total just 32 seconds after the second period opened. Taking the puck inside the Oilers' blue line, he flashed down the right boards, pulled the defence over and drilled a hard angle shot into the left side of the rigging. McIntosh passed to Kirkpatrick in the clear and McKay pulled off a brilliant stop off centre-ice shot. A second later he blocked Doug. French's close in drive after a smooth passing bout with Milford and Kirkpatrick. Ursaki did a beautiful bit of stickhandling as he brought the puck out of the corner and manoeuvred right in front of the net. McKay had to be hot again to top the shot. A moment later he blocked Klein's drive as Ursaki set up the play. Only the Turner Valley goalie's brilliant blocking held Leafs at bay as they swept in with a series of machine-like plays.

BREAK THROUGH

Turner Valley tightened up and on a three-man rush that looked at one time to be effectively covered up, they broke into the scoring. Pat Hill, Leaf defenceman, shot the puck into a corner, but Atkinson got there first and whipped a sweet pass into the goal mouth where A. Chakowski batted it past a defenceless Young. A few moments later a tripping penalty to Barnes gave Oilers a chance to gang up but Leafs held them at bay without much difficulty.

Atkinson overskated Cairn's pass in the clear as Oilers fought with renewed determination. Leafs surged back into the scoring on another smooth play that saw Ursaki pass to Klein at centre ice then spring forward to take the rubber back and shake loose from a defenceman and whip the rubber home for his second goal of the evening. The marker came less than three minutes before the end of the period.

Oilers got a soft goal after five minutes of listless play in the third period when McIndoe passed the puck across his own goalmouth and Andy Chakowski came in fast to slip the rubber under Young. A penalty to Howie Hill for holding Mervin Lund gave the visitors a chance to pull up but a desperate band of Oilers held them out.

Oilers put four men up in an effort to equalize and Young had to be sensational as the Turner Valley team swarmed around him. Kirkpatrick was held on a breakaway and Craddock was chased. Klein was right through McKay pulled off a great stop. A moment later Klein was through again, passing to Barnes who caught the rubber up with a drive that gave McKay no chance. With the teams at full strength on more McKay pulled off another smart effort, moving clean across his goal to save Kirkpatrick's scorching drive. Young came 10 feet out of his net to smother Andy Chakowski's shot when the winger was in the clear on a smart play.

Leafs added to their total on a breakaway that saw Klein on the receiving end of a double play. Milford to Ursaki. Klein's shot went clean through the net near the right post. Play went on for a moment before Referee Sande halted it. Leafs took over the play with McKay balling drives from French, Kirkpatrick and Ken Stewart. Oilers put five men up once more and

O'Dowdy Is Cutcher's Starry Newcomer Friday

Pat O'Dowdy is Promoter Mike Cutcher's latest and starriest wrestling entry in the middleweight tournament. The Portland maiman adds prestige to one of the finest matched cards since the opening of the tourney, a card which will be featured by the matching of two of the toughest thugs—Otto Ludwig and Bob "Bad Boy" Cummings, who meet at the Memorial Hall Friday night.

The matching of Ludwig against Cummings brings together the two roughnecks Edmonton fans have wanted to see in such a bout for a long time. Both wrestlers have proven that they can wrestle most any rules and in any style. Cummings has long been a rough contestant here and he can wrestle, too. Ludwig proved himself last week by winning against George Hartay.

O'Dowdy enters the tournament matched against long and lean Gust Johnson in the semi-windup bout, and this pair rounds out one of Cutcher's best matched cards since the tourney started.

While this is his first bout in an Edmonton ring, many fans will remember the rowdy Irishman who mopped up on the muscle men in Portland. Fans here have heard many of O'Dowdy's bouts over the air.

An opening bout will start off the card at 8:30 p.m. Contestants in this bout have not been named.

A new form of contract will be employed at Liverpool today when trading in corn futures is resumed. A general meeting was held in Liverpool on Oct. 26th and the following rules were adopted—That a new form of contract headed "future delivery contract maize" Liverpool grade—be instituted with terms "delivery to be overside ex-ship". With directors empowered to fix date when trading is to commence. We will receive the opening and closing quotations for the time being, or until interest increases and further details will be furnished from time to time. We will commence by quoting the first two positions, June and July as this is the time new Plate corn is arriving freely in the U.K. At the present time there are substantial amounts of American corn arriving, also moderate quantities of Danubian and Argentine varieties are in hand. Shippers lowered their cif wheat offers yesterday, excepting the Argentine and Rumanian. The situation is undoubtedly clearing and political conditions in Europe today are better than they have been since before the Sudetenland crisis.

Chile Quivers As Quakes Continue Shaking Territory

Above map shows hardest hit cities in Chile earthquake area. Reports poured in to Santiago, Chilean capital, of deaths mounting into thousands.

SANTIAGO, Chile, Feb. 1. — Earth and sky in a terrifying, capricious mood today struck fresh fear into the hearts of south Chile's destitute thousands, survivors of an earthquake which last week took perhaps 30,000 lives.

New earth tremors, unusual volcanic activity and electrical storms raged throughout the high Andes. The storms impeded relief work.

El Salto observatory here announced Chile was going through a "season of earthquakes." A quake of moderate intensity was felt last night at La Serena, 600 miles north of last week's disaster zone. No casualties were reported, but the people were frightened.

Another quake of considerable intensity was felt last night at Chillan, which was almost totally destroyed last week.

Reports reaching Santiago said the Llaima volcano in the Chillan area and Quizapu volcano near Talca, also in the southern zone, were putting on minor displays of life.

The governor of Biobio province reported Antuco volcano, 9,807 feet high, came to life after two centuries of inactivity. The governor said the glare from Antuco's crater could be seen miles away. Antuco is about 125 miles southeast of Concepcion.

ANTHRAX SPORES ARE REVEALED IN BRUSH BRISTLES

TORONTO, Feb. 1—Presence of deadly anthrax spores in the bristles of 18 dozen Japanese shaving brushes seized by provincial police last week from a Toronto jobber, was revealed Tuesday with completion of provincial laboratory tests under direction of Dr. A. L. McNabb.

Federal customs authorities at Ottawa have been notified and all municipal medical health officers in Ontario have been instructed to make a systematic search for any such brushes on sale in their jurisdictions.

Hon. Harold J. Kirby, Ontario health minister, has requested the federal government to ban importation into Ontario of the type of Japanese brush concerned.

Records of investigations carried out in this province reveal that no anthrax germs have been discovered in any shaving brushes brought into this province, according to Hon. Dr. W. W. Cross, minister of health and in charge of relief.

EDMONTON, Feb. 1—Trucked and driven in to local livestock agencies on Jan. 31: 98 cattle, 75 calves, 62 hogs, 23 sheep.

Shipped in by rail: 1 car cattle and calves from Brownvale.

D. & D. PRODUCING AT RATE OF ONE BARREL A MINUTE

D. & D., most southerly well completed in Turner Valley, produced at the rate of approximately a barrel a minute Monday night after it was opened up following acidization. This would give a production of 1,440 barrels a day.

Okalta No. 6, most westerly well to be finished in the valley, and a mile and a half west of the main producing area, was treated late Monday with 5,000 gallons of acid. Swabbing was continuing when the last report was received. Favorable results at No. 6 would undoubtedly be followed by considerable drilling activity to the west of the main crude pool. Recently a second plug was put in between the upper and lower horizons at Okalta No. 6. Salt water was encountered in the lower horizon and production is being secured from the upper porous zone only.

Good progress is continuing at the Harris wells, No. 1 being at a depth of 3,650 feet and No. 2 at 2,150 feet. Both are being financed privately by George Harris and associates.

The depth of Scottish Petroleums, west of Consolidated, was 5,809 feet when the last report was received. Vantage, which is also being drilled by the Union Drilling Company, is at 400 feet.

At the Grease Creek well, 16-inch casing is being run to 1,125 feet. Application has been made for listing of the company's stock on the Calgary Stock Exchange.

The Royalite report shows No. 35 drilling at 6,079 feet; No. 36 at 7,580 feet was 100 feet in the Madison; No. 37 was 52 feet in the Madison at a total depth of 7,245 feet and No. 38 was drilling at 4,860 feet.

DECORATIONS WILL FEATURE ROYAL VISIT

3,000,000 Yards Of Bunting Estimated For Use On Special Occasion

Edmonton will be decorated as never before when Their Majesties King George VI and Queen Elizabeth step from the royal train to greet northern and central Alberta residents. It is estimated that upwards of three million yards of bunting and other material will be covering downtown buildings on that occasion, and already the rush to get orders in for decorative material has started.

"The rush on the manufacturers will be so great that orders have to be rushed away immediately," stated one buyer for a local concern. "We have already ordered 1,500,000 yards of bunting, and another order goes forward this week. Orders received after this week cannot be guaranteed for delivery, and that is causing the greatest rush."

Downtown stores, hotels, banks, theatres, office buildings and all government buildings will be alive in color during the royal visit. Red, white and blue bunting makes up the majority of the material ordered to date, with large quantities of Canadian Ensign and Union Jack bunting. Flags by the thousands have also been ordered and local manufacturers will be hard pressed to keep pace with the demand from all over Canada, so that Edmonton orders should be given immediately.

200,000 EXPECTED

Edmonton's population of 90,000 likely will expand to nearly 200,000 on the day Their Majesties visit here. It was forecast Wednesday by Percy W. Abbott, K.C., chairman of the Royal Visit Committee.

The committee is sending letters to every mayor and reeve in Alberta north of Red Deer, seeking to set up organizations to co-operate with the city committee in plans and to attempt to determine how many people may be expected here.

Special Trains For Royal Visit

Special fares will be allowed and special trains provided to bring residents of central and northern Alberta to Edmonton on June 2 for the occasion of the visit of Their Majesties, King George and Queen Elizabeth.

The Canadian Legion intends to bring all school children to the city for the royal visit and railroad officials have stated that facilities for operation with the Legion on this plan.

LEGION RALLY

As the annual meeting of the Provincial Command of the Legion is to be held at Edmonton June 1, 2 and 3, it is expected that a province-wide rally of members will be held here on those days.

The Edmonton Royal Visit Committee met Wednesday night and had a detailed discussion of a route for the royal procession. The committee expects to complete plans for the route this week, but these must be approved by the Dominion government before they will be announced.

Inquiring Reporter — Prexy To Prof

Statesmen, when they fall from power, quickly become forgotten men and their name begins to gather dust. This may be the fate reserved for Dr. Edvard Benes, ex-president of Czecho-Slovakia, and regarded as the cleverest diplomat in Europe. He is to take up his duties soon as professor in a United States university and has not made the news for weeks on end. Anxious to find out if people have already forgotten this heroic man, the Bulletin's Inquiring Reporter asked: "Would you like to take classes from Dr. Benes and what would you expect to hear?"

JEAN COLLINS, student: I think Dr. Benes, as professor, would be a fascinating lecturer. What could be more thrilling than to hear history lectures by a man who helped make history in so many ways? The fact that interest in his lectures is reported to be very keen, shows conclusively, I think, that he is not a forgotten man and is in little danger of becoming one.

C. B. BRUCE, insurance man: I usually don't care very much for these highbrow lectures, but I certainly would like to hear Dr. Benes. I would expect to hear a very dignified and temperate analysis of Europe's problems by a man who won the hearts of the world by his conduct in a sombre crisis.

JIM CLARK, Young Liberal: When one would hear Dr. Benes, he would be listening to a great scholar who was also a great statesman and who knew at first hand the things he was talking about. Far from being forgotten, I venture to think Dr. Benes will achieve great prominence as a lecturer at universities.

Scholarship

talented city violinist, who has been awarded a $300 scholarship by the Edmonton Civic Opera Society.

SOCIETY AWARD IS PRESENTED CITY VIOLINIST

Egon Grapentin, 18-year-old Edmonton violinist, who is widely known in musical circles in the city and province, was made the recipient of a scholarship of $300 for further study by Mayor John W. Fry, on behalf of the Edmonton Civic Opera Society in the Empire theatre Tuesday evening.

The presentation was made prior to the rehearsal of the opera society for its spring production, "Desert Song."

During the past year Mr. Grapentin has been studying, taking further study in violin at Temple University School of Music in Philadelphia, through the aid of the first opera society scholarship awarded to him last year.

He is visiting in Edmonton for some time before returning to Philadelphia, and is planning a recital for late February.

Reports on Mr. Grapentin's work has won highest praise from his teacher, Dr. Thaddeus Rich, teacher of the violin, and from Elim Ulrich, with whom Mr. Grapentin is studying the piano.

Mayor Fry commended in the few presentation remarks he made, both the progress of the recipient and the work of the Society in sponsoring talent.

DETECTIVE IS INSTRUCTOR IN PICKING LOCKS

Art Of Forcing Yale Lock Explained To Jurymen In Supreme Court

Jurymen in the trial of James Meyer, Edmonton, received education from Det. Murdo Munro, city police, Wednesday, in the art of forcing a Yale lock with a piece of celluloid.

Det. Munro was called as a defense witness by Hugh Calain Macdonald, K.C., to refute contention of crown witnesses that, as false pass and door-jamb of a store had not been splintered, there could not have been a "break-in" attempted.

THEFT TOTAL

Meyer is charged with theft of a dictionary, 180 pairs of [illegible] six rifles, a number of gem and plain gold rings, and a silk gun. The stolen articles were valued at approximately $600. The theft took place at Ashdown's store, now occupied by Abner Hingley between August 1 and 31 last year.

Evidence adduced by the crown at Tuesday's session was that the accused had sold a quantity of rings to an Edmonton jeweller for $12.25 and gone to a Calgary pawnbroker's and dealer. A false name was used when sale of the guns was made. The dealer paid $20 for the rifles. Mr. Hingley identified the jewellery and guns as his property.

DENIES STEALING

Giving evidence in his own behalf the accused emphatically denied theft of the articles taken from Hingley's store and told the court he had restrained his father from paying Hingley the value set on a rifle as it would constitute an admission of his guilt.

He said he purchased the rifles sold in Edmonton from Hubert Thompson, and gave a false name through the aid of the first opera society scholarship awarded to him last year.

He is visiting in Edmonton for some time before returning to Philadelphia, and is planning a recital for late February.

Reports on Mr. Grapentin's work has won highest praise from his teacher, Dr. Thaddeus Rich, teacher of the violin, and from Elim Ulrich, with whom Mr. Grapentin is studying the piano.

Mayor Fry commended in the few presentation remarks he made, both the progress of the recipient and the work of the Society in sponsoring talent.

City engineers' department has completed installation of 90 contact lights along two runways at the Edmonton airport, putting them into operation this week, it was learned Wednesday from P. L. Debney, chief engineer of the city engineers department.

These lights, by means of refracting, throw beams of light downward onto the runways. They are set nearly flush with the ground. Pilots so far have found these lights satisfactory, Mr. Debney said. They were supplied by the federal department of transport.

On making airports it has been a custom to mark runways by setting small spruce trees in the snow, which are visible with the airplane's landing lights.

CALGARY GIVEN FIRST SERVICE IN AIRMAIL RUN

New schedule for Trans-Canada Airlines which includes landings at Calgary, started Wednesday morning, the mail plane making its first regular stop at the southern city's new airport.

The northbound plane was delayed out of Lethbridge, waiting for the mail plane from the east, which was delayed in northern Ontario by weather. It did not arrive in Edmonton until 9:20 a.m., although scheduled here at 6 a.m.

The flight giving Calgary its first airmail service was made by Capt. Arthur Rankin and First Officer Jack Boothe.

Airmail Is Delayed By Heavy Snowstorm

CALGARY, Feb. 1.—Heavy snowstorms in eastern Canada resulted in the first trans-continental airmail plane reaching Calgary about three and a half hours late this morning.

Scheduled to arrive here at 4:30 a.m., on its maiden flight as the Calgary link was connected with the regular Trans-Canada airmail service this morning, the silver-coated Lockeed 12 plane did not land at the new airport five miles southeast of the city, until 7:57 a.m.

PIANISTS TO PLAY IN CITY ON WEDNESDAY

Ethel Bartlett, Rae Robertson Sponsored By Women's Musical Club

Internationally celebrated as a two-piano team of the front rank, Ethel Bartlett and Rae Robertson arrived here Wednesday in preparation for their recital in the evening at the Empire theatre, under the banner of the Women's Musical Club. This will be the third of the current season's Celebrity Series.

This is the first visit here of the famous team, although they are well known to many music lovers and more especially since their appearance a year ago, with the New York Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra, under John Barbirolli, on one of the Sunday programs.

BORN IN LONDON

Miss Bartlett was born and educated in London, coming from a musical family. She studied at the Royal Academy of Music and later in Berlin with Artur Schnabel. On her return to England she made many successful appearances.

Mr. Robertson is a native of Inverness, Scotland, and his distinguished career is not confined to music, for he served with conspicuous gallantry in the World War and was wounded in the Battle of the Somme.

They gave their first two piano recital in 1927 and were the first two English artists to do so. They have appeared with most of the leading orchestras and have composed works for two pianos specially written for them and have given "first performances" of them.

Following the recital they will be guests of honor at a reception being given by the music club.

HUGH ROBERTS IS EXONERATED IN DEATH CASE

Jury Finds Spiett Died From Fractured Skull In Road Accident

After one hour and 10 minutes of deliberation, a coroner's jury Tuesday afternoon found that Emil Spiets came to his death last Saturday night from fractures of the skull and loss of blood received when he was accidentally struck by a car driven by Hugh Roberts.

They attached no blame to the driver of the car.

Held at the funeral home of Howard & McBride, the inquest was conducted by provincial coroner Dr. E. A. Braithwaite, with C. G. Jhre as representative of the crown. H. W. Cobbledick acted for Roberts and W. J. Mustard for the Spiett family.

Widely divergent versions of where Emil Spiett was walking when he was struck down featured the inquest.

Medical testimony was that Spiett's skull was badly fractured, death coming from the base of the skull, where the blow was struck, no over the top of his head and down toward the right ear.

Roberts, face pale, and his wife, both visibly affected by the ordeal, were present but were not called to give evidence.

St. John Ambulance Brigade, Edmonton Ambulance Division No. 81, will parade Thursday at 8 p.m. at headquarters. Annual returns are to be signed by each member, and a full attendance is requested.

COLD WEATHER STOPS RECORD FOR MILDNESS

Light Snow is Forecast for District—Month Report Issued

Present cold spell sweeping over the city queered all possibility of establishing any record for the mildest January of the past 20 years. That title is still held by the month of January, 1931, the mean temperature for that month having been 23.3 degrees above zero. Average temperature for the month past was 16 above. Coldest January ever the same period of time came in 1935, mean temperature for that month being 4.1 below.

Cold weather which has been extending across the Dominion and into the United States still kept as icy grasp on Edmonton Tuesday and Wednesday. The local forecaster promises that the cold spell will not continue. "Cold; probable light snow" said the weatherman Wednesday morning.

MAXIMUM
Maximum temperature in the city Tuesday was five above registered at 1 p.m. Minimum Wednesday was 19 below at 8 a.m.

Highest maximum temperature for the month just ended was 49 above as compared to the highest maximums for the past 20 years of 45 above during January, 1931 and a low maximum of 25 above in January, 1930.

MINIMUM
Lowest minimum for January of the years was 39 below. Lowest minimum for the same month over the 20-year period was 30 below in 1922. All-time record low for the month was set on January, 1911, when the mercury dropped to 32 below on the 13th day of the month. Highest minimum during the same period was 18 below in 1931.

Total precipitation for the month just ended was .04 inches. Total hours of bright sunshine added to 85 hours.

CITY ARTISTS PLEASE CROWD AT ROXY HOUSE

Under the personal direction of Senor Lobo, city artists have pleased packed houses at the West End Roxy theatre with their versatility and artistic finish.

Each evening 12 artists appear at the two performances at 7 p.m. and 9:30 p.m. with an entire change of contestants each night. The audience is taking keen interest in selecting the winners of the silver cups presented each night, and on Saturday evening at a gala event all winners will be on the stage for the elimination contest for the large silver challenge cup.

The Edmonton talent taking part in this six-day "Parade of Artists" at the Roxy will all be registered on Senor Lobo's Bureau of Talent and their abilities may be used in movie or radio work, as this is the object of the talent search the Senor is conducting throughout Canada.

Terry Pin's Tips On

CARD PLAYING

Bridge sharpens the wits. When your partner trumps your ace it takes exceptional mental agility to think up a nastier remark than you made the last time that happened.

Card parties are very interesting since there is no better way of hearing so much gossip at one time.

One of the best things about card playing is the keen zest of competition. This zest is not so keen, however, if you notice that your opponent can shuffle the deck with one hand.

Good card players develop amazing resourcefulness. It takes unusual co-ordination of mind and muscle to slip an extra ace in the pack when no one is looking.

Minute Make-Ups

To protect your legs from chapping in sharp Winter weather, give them a quick massage each morning with a soothing cream. Then remove the cream by rubbing it off briskly with a coarse terry towel. Finally, dust your legs with bath powder, so stockings slip on easily.
